LEGISLATIVE REFORM.

The House Speakership—The Game of Brag.

The Lancaster Father Abraham refers to the Speakership of the House as follows: "Notwithstanding the wholesome result of the last election—the triumph of reform candidates in almost every district in which the issue was made against the corruptionists of the last session—the latter element is at work trying to 'set up' the leader and champion of the pasting and folding swindle, B. B. Strang, for the Speakership of the House! It is said that the Philadelphia delegation have already held a caucus and decided to run the organization and force Mr. Strang into the chair, and that ten or eleven out of the fifteen members from the city are in this ring. They evidently count on 'roping in' and managing the 'greenhorns' from the rural districts, but whether they will succeed remains to be seen. Their game is brag, and no one elected as a reformer should be deceived by them, or suffer himself to be dragooned into a position inconsistent with his pledges and professions made before the nominations and election. A few days ago a prominent Dauphin county politician, in the service of the ring, made strong declarations in favor of Mr. Strang—offered to bet a basket of champagne on his election, and even went so far as to intimate that the representatives from Lancaster county will support him! Such demonstrations clearly prove that the brag game is relied on by the corruptionists to make strength for their candidate. Whilst we claim no authority to speak for the representatives from this county, we do assert that they will not vote for Mr. Strang, or any other representative of the ring of corruptionists.' "

After indorsing the COMMERCIAL's views on the next Speakership, the Father Abraham concludes as follows: "What is the voice of the Republican press? Let them speak out boldly and emphatically now, and not wait until the mischief is done, and then whine about it. It is especially necessary that public opinion should be heard now, because a legislative "ring" is about being formed, lead off by the Philadelphia "roosters." It is already announced that the State Treasurership is "fixed" for the present incumbent, and Strang is to be the "ring" candidate for Speaker. Last winter Philadelphia 'ruled the roast,' and monopolized all the prominent places on the committees of the House, and they are now setting up" for the same game. The 'country members' can nip this nice arrangement in the bud if they will go at it with a will. Let the country press speak out, and speak now.' "

The Father Abraham says it learns that a Philadelphia Senator is busily engaged in fixing the "slate" for the Senate, and will again monopolize five of the Senate's officials, and fix the Finance Committee to suit the purposes of the "ring," unless the "country Senators are up and doing. "Forewarned is forearmed.' "

Ex-Treasurer Kemble.

The Harrisburg Telegraph disposes of the insinuations against Ex-Treasurer Kemble as follows:

"Some of the Copperhead papers have, on several occasions, insinuated that W. H. Kemble, Esq., the late State Treasurer, is a defaulter to the State. The charges are so ingeniously made that Mr. Kemble is not able to prosecute these common libelers in a court of Justice; hence we have made diligent inquiry at the Auditor General's office and also at the State Treasurer's, and find that the whole story is a gross fabrication from beginning to end. The accounts of the State Treasurer are examined every thirty days by the Auditor General, and at no period were Mr. Kemble's accounts found to be wrong, but on the contrary were always correct to the very farthing. The books of the late Treasurer are open to public inspection at any time, and Mr. Kemble is ready and willing to meet his accusers face to face at the shortest notice."

State Treasurer.

The Lancaster Father Abraham of this week compliments Gen. W. W. Irwin, of Beaver county, as follows: "This gentleman, so well and favorably known to every Pennsylvania Republican, will be a candidate for re-election to the office of State Treasurer, and, as we have reason to believe, with the most flattering prospects of success. His just claims upon the party, so shamefully disregarded by the ring last year, will, beyond doubt, be properly recognized at the coming session of the Legislature. Republican members elect from the Eastern part of the State will not be a particle behind those from the West, where Gen. Irwin always has been and is now a favorite, in giving him what he so well deserves, their hearty and vigorous support."

The Human Voice vs. Burdett.

The noblest of all instruments is the human voice. Tens of thousands would be freely given for the possession of a musical voice. Hardly distinguishable from the voice, however, are the tones of the Burdett Organs. Whether for the pathetic strains of sacred music, the touching cadence of the household melodies or the brilliant effects of martial and secular music, no organ can presume to compare with the Burdett Organ. A refined and musical lady, on hearing the "Burdet," remarked that they were the only reed instruments which merited the name "Organ." All other organs sounded to her ears like overgrown accordeons. Call at Kleber's, 122 Wood street, listen to the Burdett, and you will be able to realize the term "celestial music." †

Yachting.

LONDON, November 5.—The News this morning says Bennett means business. He is ready and willing to sail the Cambria next March, once at New York; if Ashbury fails to bring back the cup, it will not be for lack of competition, and if his competitors cannot find a clear stage and no favor on the Atlantic in March, they must be hard to please.

Obituary—George Peabody.

LONDON, November 5.—The Post in its obituary article, says Mr. Peabody was one of the few whose private virtues are followed by public fame, and whose virtues may be cited as examples. In laying the foundation of wholesome and cheerful homes for the working classes, he acted upon a high sense of duty, and touched the main spring of civilization. He made his means the measure of his philanthropy. Throughout his whole life his conduct displayed a purity of character that could not fail to elevate and refine the feelings his generosity inspired.

The Telegraph says Mr. Peabody's lot was doubly happy. The inscription on his mausoleum may tell with unquestioned truth of the man who loved his kind and served two countries.

LONDON, November 5.—The Times says the news of Mr. Peabody's death will be received with no common sorrow on both sides of the Atlantic. Sentiments of regret will not be mere passing tributes of gratitude to the munificent benefactor, who was a New Englander, who, when the South was bowed down to dust, stepped forward and claimed the right to succor it. He was no courtier, yet claimed and was honored by sovereigns. He was profuse in charity, was a philanthropist, liked as well as honored. There was nothing hard or narrow about his philanthropy. He humbly did whatever good came in his way.

To-morrow will be a holiday in London, and the Exchange will not be open. Queen Victoria will visit the city to open the new bridge.

THE BIBLE IN THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

Significant Article from the "Catholic Telegraph."

CINCINNATI, November 5.—The Catholic Telegraph of yesterday contains the following: "From the atheistic theory that the State has authority to tax for education, separated from all religious influence, journalistic supporters of the schools veered to the advocacy of religious instruction. It was a transition that brought them into direct antagonism with the law to sustain a school system that tramples upon the rights of the Catholics. That blindness has driven these defenders of the common schools to a second defeat. The first chapter in this school controversy is now closed. It ends with a triumph of law. The second chapter will open with agitation against the law itself, in the name of justice, and the right that both Protestants and Catholics have to positive religious instruction in separate schools. If the school laws be modified to secure denominational education for all, Catholics will cheerfully pay their portion of the school fund. If this wise amendment cannot be made, taxation for school purposes must cease. Now that the bible has been excluded from the schools, if professed Protestants have been sincere in all that they have said in its favor, they must agree with Catholics in the second issue of this question. Consistency will make them our friends in the future."

Cream Ale.

It is a well proved fact that good ales can be made only of the best qualities of malt and hops, and all attempts to make them out of other articles (drugs and syrups) must prove abortive. Messrs. Pier, Dannals & Co., recognizing this truth, pay the highest prices for barley, hops and malt, so securing material from which their delicious and nutricious cream ale is extracted. The large business which they do proves that their principle is correct. †

ORRVILLE, OHIO.

A Postoffice Thief Shot in the Act of Committing a Robbery.

Special Dispatch to the Commercial.

ORRVILLE, OHIO, November 5, 1869.

A fatal shooting affair occurred at New Portage, Summit county, this morning. Mr. Welch, the agent of the C. Z. and C. R. R., postmaster and proprietor of a small store at that place, has been greatly annoyed for many months by having his room broken into, and the office, store and mail robbed. All efforts of the proprietor and the United States Marshal to detect the perpetrator have proved futile. Mr. Welch and son remained in the store last night to keep watch, and about three o'clock this morning the son left the store for his residence. Shortly afterward a person was heard to open a window and enter the room, when Mr. Welch fired a gun, and the robber fell dead. The dead man was proved to be Mr. Whitney, a well known resident of the place, and a married man, about thirty-five years of age. Mr. Welch delivered himself up to the Sheriff of Summit county, to await the Coroner's decision.

It will probably fall short of this, however, unless the stills burn. C

Among several thousand barrels examined, an error against the Government of five hundred gallons was found. WASHINGTON.

Investigation Committees' Expenses.

A Deficit in Appropriations—The Army of Tennessee Meeting—Complaints Against the Pacific Railroad—New Postal Rules.

Special Dispatch to the Commercial.

WASHINGTON, D. C., November 5, 1869.

The Army of Tennessee.

Generals Sherman, Parker, Giles A. Smith, and Terrell and Colonel Dayton, of General Sherman's staff, and General Thomas L. Crittenden commanding at Richmond, have made arrangements to attend the meeting of the Army of the Tennessee at Louisville, on the 17th inst. The President thinks it hardly probable that he will be able to attend. Admiral Porter has agreed to go if he can arrange his official business.

The President's Message.

The President will probably send in his message to each House in writing. The object of this is to prevent its premature publication. The Secretary of the Treasury is also contemplating the same course.

A Committee's Expenses Exhausted.

It is stated that the expenses of the Election Committee in the investigation of Louisiana matters amounted to nearly the entire sum of the appropriation by the House for the contingent fund. The Committee, however, went no further in its work than ordered to do by the House. It had no discretion in the matter, and those acquainted with the history of the investigation say that no unusual expenses were involved. The sum was rendered necessary in view of the number of witnesses required and long distances they had to travel. The Sub-Committee, charged with going to South Carolina, formally decided to-day that they could not go, as no funds could be obtained.

Complaints on Pacific Railroad.

Complaints from the line of the Pacific Railroad are frequent, of the utter failure of the paper mails. There seems to be no explanation that meets the case, except the supposition that papers are abstracted for reading.

The New Postal Rates.

The Postmaster General has appointed three officials of his department to examine the postal laws, as codified by the commission appointed by Congress, with a view to ascertaining whether the work as completed covers all the needs of legislation upon postal affairs. This examination is ordered with a view to recommendations to be embraced in the forthcoming report.

A letter was received from an officer of the internal revenue at the South, saying he was over one hundred miles from the railway, and that it was dangerous to try to collect; and besides, the roads had been so bad for several weeks he had not done anything, but hoped to report a better state of affairs after a while.

WASHINGTON, November 5, 1869.

CUSTOMS RECEIPTS.

The customs receipts from October 23d to the 30th inclusive were $3,134,108.

REDUCTION OF POSTAGE.

From late intelligence received through Mr. Thornton, British Minister, it appears Her Majesty's Government is prepared to reduce the single rate of postage for pre-paid letters between the United States and the United Kingdom to three pence. There is little doubt, therefore, of the early adoption of this measure of postal reform.

CONTESTED ELECTIONS.

Representatives Churchill, Cessna and Randall, the Sub-Committee of the Committee of Elections, after a conference to-day, decided not to go to South Carolina to investigate the contested elections from the Third and Fourth Congressional Districts. The reason for their action is that the contingent fund of the House is exhausted of means necessary to pay two or three hundred witnesses necessary to be examined in order to afford full information for the action of the House. Nothing more will be done on the subject until the meeting of Congress. The testimony in the Louisiana cases taken by the Committee of Elections will make 1,500 printed pages, and is now in the printer's hands. The testimony in twenty other cases, including the Covode and Van Wyck contests, will cover probably 6,000 printed pages. There are already about thirty contested cases.

NEW POSTOFFICE AT NASHVILLE.

The postoffice building at Nashville being unfit for use, the Postmaster General has instructed an agent of the service in that division to procure a suitable building in some other portion of the city.

SALES OF PUBLIC LANDS.

During the last fiscal year about 7,000,000 acres of public lands were entered under the homestead and other laws, yielding the Government between $4,000,000 and $5,000,000.

THE NEW YORK TREASURYSHIP.

No action was taken by the Cabinet to-day relative to the appointment of a successor to Assistant Treasurer Butterfield.

THE STONEWALL DISASTER.

Examination of the Crew of Submarine No. 13, in Reference to the Alleged Inhuman Conduct of Capt. Washington—Five More Bodies Found and Identified.

At the urgent request of Capt. John T. Washington, commander of the Submarine No. 13, who is alleged to have acted very inhumanly in passing the steamer Stonewall when she was burning without attempting to render any aid to the drowning passengers and crew, the President of the Merchants' Exchange at St. Louis appointed a committee to-day to investigate the affair. Several of the crew of the Submarine were examined under oath, the tenor of their evidence being that when they passed the Stonewall she was almost entirely destroyed; that they saw no person on the boat or in the water; no animals in the water, nobody on shore, and no evidence that there was anybody on or about the wreck. The supposition seemed to be the burning boat was the Colorado, and that the Stonewall had passed and taken her crew and passengers off.

It was in evidence that Capt. Washington had stated that if he could save an animal struggling for life, he would round to and render it assistance, but it was the general opinion of the officers that there was no necessity for landing, as there was no one visible to assist. Orders were given to keep a sharp watch for any demonstration of life, but none was seen, and the boat passed on. The investigation will be continued to-morrow, and until all the crew are examined.

A letter from Captain Shaw, dated Neeley's Landing, November 3, says five more bodies have been found at the wreck of the Stonewall. The search will be continued. The bodies found are supposed, from letters and other evidence on their persons, to be Isaac Read, Choff R. Johnson, Mr. McGee, John Skuld, who had lived in Terre Haute, and another having nothing on to indicate his name.

THE PACIFIC COAST.

Restoration of Railroad Lands to Market—The Southern Pacific Road—Particulars of the Murder of Col. Stone by Indians.

SAN FRANCISCO, November 5.—The restoration of public lands heretofore reserved for the Southern Pacific Railroad Company will probably cause the Company to make its location through the San Joaquin Valley, connecting with the Western Pacific near Stockton, thus constituting the California and Oregon and the Southern Pacific Road a grand trunk line from Columbia river north to Colorado south, passing through the richest agricultural valley of the State.

The official reports of the recent attack on the mail and murder of Col. Stone by Indians at Apache Pass, Arizona, state that the attack was made after night, and was a surprise. The Indians were led by white men. The mail was the principal attraction. The Indians had obtained a knowledge of greenbacks and the notorious facilities for disposing of them. After slaughtering the mail forty Indians attacked a herd of cattle belonging to Texas immigrants, run off two hundred and fifty head, and killed one Texan. They twice attacked a Goverment train en route to Camp Bowie, but were repulsed. Troops from Camp Bowie were sent in pursuit of the savages, who were making for Sonora.

The War of the Pianos.

The war of the piano-makers waxes stronger and stronger every day. Steinway, covered with medals from neck to waist, challenges his opponents to equal him if they can; Chickering, decorated with blue ribbons and apparalled in testimonials, rushes furiously to the fray, and between the two America provides the world with its best pianos. But the last venture of Steinway is the best, and as a bit of sublime daring equals the most dashing cavalry raid of the late unpleasantness. He has actually captured Boston—Brooklyn and New York, Germany and France were already in his grasp—Boston, the home and playground of old Mr. Chickering and all the little Chickerings, with Carlotta Patti and Ritter, the manipulative wonder of the nineteenth century, the Steinway piano has secured from Boston's pet evening chronicle, the Traveller, the following indorsement:

The piano used on the occasion was a grand, from the world celebrated manufactory of the Messrs. Steinway & Sons, of New York. These instruments are well-known in this city, and take rank among artists as being the best manufactured in the country. That made use of last night was round and solid in tone, and was equally well adapted for an accompanying or solo piano. Under the skilful, delicate, and elastic manipulations of Mr. Theodore Ritter, all its many fine qualities were admirably displayed. It is a charmingly balanced instrument, no one part, in volume or sound, preponderating over that of the other. It is capable of the nicest effects, and is at once powerful, sympathetic, rich, and liquid in its tones, and very responsive to the touch. In short, it is an instrument on which any maker may pledge a reputation, and on which too much praise can not be lavished.

No wonder Boston has sold its Coliseum. With the eclipse of Chickering, the ancient city itself is blurred, and henceforth the banner of the Steinway will flaunt unchecked defiance from the very summit of the Bunker Hill Monument. †

NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, November 5, 1869.

A NEW FOUR PER CENT. LOAN.

The Sun learns from Washington that Secretary Boutwell is making arrangements to bring out a new loan at four per cent. interest, and it will be officially announced at an early day. The Sun is also informed that an agent of the Treasury sailed for Europe in the Scotia on Wednesday last, with authority to negotiate with capitalists for a considerable part of it. The maximum rate of interest which he is authorized to treat for is four per cent.

PERE HYCAINTHE'S LETTER.

Pere Hyacinthe's letter to Rev. Mr. Bacon contains the annexed sentence: "I remain faithful to my church, and if I have lifted up my protest against the excesses which dishonor it, and seem bent on its ruin, you may measure the intensity of my love for it by the bitterness of my lamentations."

THE AUTOGRAPH LETTER OF WASHINGTON,

At Independence Hall at Philadelphia, is a forgery. A man named Wm. R. Emerson, now under arrest, proves the author.

THE BYRON SCANDAL.

A long article on the Byron scandal from the London Quarterly is published, which contains a series of letters written by Lady Byron to Lady Augusta Leigh. The letters are expressive of the warmest friendship, and were written at the very time she was charged with one of the most horrible crimes, and regarding her as the real cause of her separation from her husband.

A DEFAULTER.

The Sun publishes a rumor of the flight of Samuel T. Blatchford, a deputy Collector in the Custom House, guilty of frauds, if such they prove, exceeding a quarter of a million of dollars.

THE NEW CONSTITUTION DEFEATED.

There seems little doubt that the new constitution is totally defeated.

ATTACHMENTS AGAINST THE OPERA HOUSE.

Four new attachments were issued to-day against the Fisk Opera House, three at the suit of Orlando W. Joslyn, and one at the suit of Watson B. Farr. The former were for $352,350, and the latter for $272,589, which, with the former attachments, completely "liens up" Mr. Fisk's interest in the establishment. On motion to vacate the previous attachments against the opera house at the suit of Joslyn, Judge Brady has decided that legally Fisk is a resident of Boston and that attachments were properly issued and must stand.

ARRIVAL.

The steamship Donau from Bremen has arrived.

COUNTERFEITER ARRESTED.

Josiah Bright was arrested in Philadelphia yesterday, by an officer of the secret service, and brought to this city, charged with having counterfeit money in his possession. The Commissioner held him for examination next Monday.

BURGLARY.

This morning the store No. 119 Bowery, occupied by J. J. Corcoran as a drug store, was broken open and three thousand dollars worth of goods stolen. The burglars were arrested and the property recovered.

THE UNDERGROUND RAILROAD.

At a meeting of the directors of the Central Underground Railway Company to-day, a report on the underground system of London was read, and action taken looking towards an early commencement of operations in this city.

ARRIVAL OF THE YANTIC.

The United States steam sloop Yantic, arrived to-day from Hayti, in command of Lieutenant Commander Tallman. While in port at St. Nicholas Mole, Hayti, October 27th, her commander Trevett Abbott, died of yellow fever. J. J. Lyon, the captain's clerk, and Wm. Mehan, seaman, also died of the same.

POSTOFFICE ROBBERS ARRESTED.

James Thompson and James McCormack, aged seventeen and nineteen, were arrested at Jersey City to-day, for robbing the postoffice at Rockaway, New Jersey, last night.

THE LATE ELECTIONS.

The Legislatures of New York and Massachusetts.

NEW YORK, November 5.—The Tribune states the Assembly at seventy-two Democrats and fifty-six Republicans, and the Senate seventeen Democrats and fifteen Republicans. Later advices indicate at least one and perhaps two more Democrats chosen to the Senate.

BOSTON, November 5.—The following seems to be the result of the late election: Twenty-two Senators, a majority, opposed to a license law, and eighteen in favor; twenty-seven Senators in favor of retaining the State police, which was another issue in the election. The House stands 123 anti-prohibitionists and 75 for prohibition.

NEW YORK, November 5.—The result of the canvass in the Fourth Senatorial District is, Wm. M. Tweed 25,308, Benj. Miller 3,641.

ALBANY, November 5.—The Argus claims 2,000 majority in the State for Nelson over Sigel. The majority on the balance of the ticket they claim will be larger. The Argus claims eighteen Democratic Senators and seventy-three members of the Assembly.

CUBA.

An Attempt to Surprise the Rebels at Cienfuegos—Probably a Fiasco.

HAVANA, November 5.—An expedition composed of troops and volunteers recently left this city by sea and land to surprise a strong body of rebels at Cienegos de Zapata. No news is yet received of the result. The Diaro doubts the success of the movement, believing the rebels were apprised of it several days in advance, and that they have by this time withdrawn into the interior.

Captain General de Rodas has arrived at Cienfuegos.

California's Big Trees.

Mr. Andrews, in one of his entertaining letters from California to the Boston Advertiser, concludes a description of the Big Trees, with the following "reflections:"

It is a dull soul that has no such suggestions as these when riding or walking in the California forests. As I have indicated, there are thousands and thousands of pines and oaks and cedars that give eight or ten feet of diameter; consider an oak of that size, and see how far down the years you must go to find the summer when it was but a sapling no larger than one's thumb. Take a common redwood; it was large enough for a ship's mast when Columbus first set his sails for this western continent. "Through nature up to nature's God,"—and so, as I lay on the leafy and mossy earth and looked up into their swaying boughs, I could not help giving some of these trees birth in the day when Christ came. So doing, what a little thing is man and his best work—dead to-day and forgotten to-morrow! But my tree was a twig in the year 1, and is green and vigorous in the year 1869—a delight to the eye, the pride of the world, with a voice of infinite suggestion for the soul of him who can hear and understand.

CITY MATTERS.

ALLEGED PERJURY.—Heinrich Siebolm preferred an information for perjury against Herman Markgraff, before Alderman Koenig, of the Twelfth ward, yesterday. The information represents that Markgraff swore falsely in a case before the Alderman referred to, when he testified that he had paid to the Pennsylvania Railroad Company a bill of $239 owed by Siebold, he himself having paid a portion of said bill, that is, $70 on account of said bill. A warrant was issued.

MEAN YOUNG MEN.—Two well dressed young men met a boot black on Diamond street yesterday morning, and engaged him to black their boots. While the lad was thus employed the topic of conversation between the men was about a $1,000 bond, one of the men being its fortunate possessor. The boy finally completed his task, but the "respectable" young men, instead of compensating the lad for his labor, walked off, highly elated at the good joke they had played. No warrant.

ALLEGED FALSE PRETENSES.—Alderman McMasters yesterday issued a warrant for the arrest of Charles Frowger, an engineer on the Connellsville Railroad. The prosecutor, J. D. Frisbee, a merchant in Connellsville, alleged that the defendant by representing that he had fifty dollars coming to him from the company obtained that amount. Mr. Frisbee alleges that when he attempted to collect the money he found that it had been previously obtained by a man named Shaffer.

SENT TO THE OHIO PENITENTIARY.—Some weeks since, it will be remembered, the Allegheny police were very anxious to learn the whereabouts of Frank C. Cook, a book-peddler by profession, who was supposed to be implicated in some of the recent burglaries in Allegheny. Chief Bowden yesterday received information that Cook had been sentenced to eight years imprisonment in the Penitentiary at Columbus, and had been removed to that place.

TAKEN TO DIXMONT.—The insane young man who has been confined in the lock-up since Wednesday last, was taken to Dixmont yesterday afternoon by officers Strain and Cupples. This is in accordance with the request made by the young man's sister, who resides in New York. Information is to be sent to her whether the unfortunate man improves or not. So far there is no evidence of improvement.

THE CATHEDRAL SPIRE.—On Thursday the last stone in the north tower of St. Paul's Cathedral was laid, and the occasion was marked by the firing of several shots and the breaking of several bottles of wine on the top of it. Messrs. Moore & Chambers were the builders. The spire will be surmounted by a large iron cross, and the scaffolding around it will not be removed until the cross is erected.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT.—Yesterday morning about ten o'clock a little boy named Scott, between four and five years of age, in attempting to pull a handful of hay from a wagon on Fifth avenue, near Magee street, was knocked down, the wheels of the wagon passing over his legs and crushing them severely. The child was taken to its home and a physician called.

CANDY FOUND.—A large tin box, containing six jars of assorted candies, was found by the police, on Thursday night, in a board-yard on Water street. It was taken to the Mayor's office, where the owner can obtain it. It is supposed that the candy was stolen and left at the board-yard to prevent detection.

COLLISION.—Yesterday morning a set of timber wheels was being driven rapidly down Penn street, and when near Tenth street an iron wagon was just coming up. The tongue of the iron wagon was run through one of the timber wheels and broken off. No other damage was done.

CHARGED WITH KEEPING A GAMBLING HOUSE.—John Gordon was before Mayor Drum yesterday charged on oath John M. Roberts with keeping a gambling house on Chestnut street, Allegheny. The accused waived a hearing and gave bail for court.

RUN OVER.—A little boy whose name we failed to ascertain was run over in Sligo yesterday by a buggy, the wheel of which passed over his back. He was very severely bruised, but his injuries are not considered dangerous.

THE GERMAN ODD FELLOWS.

The Procession to Take Place on Thanksgiving Day.

A meeting of the German Odd Fellows was held at Turner Hall last evening for the purpose of making arrangements for participating in the laying of the corner stone of the new Odd Fellows Hall to be built in East Birmingham on Sarah street.

Mr. Jacob Ulrich called the meeting to order, and said the laying of the corner stone of the new hall would take place on Thursday, November 18th, (Thanksgiving day.)

The Secretary called over the names of the delegates, when the following lodges were found to be represented:

Mechanics' Lodge, No. 9; Western Star, No. 24; McFarland, 30; Duquesne, 32; Wm. Tell, 45; Birmingham, 48; Allegheny, 49; Iron City, 82; Angerona, 289; Day Spring, 409; Robert Blum, 414; Rhine, 434; Temperanceville, 458; Peter Fritz, 489; Charles Wildman, 549; Mount Hope, 638; Granite Lodge, 652. Butler county was represented by Kinnear Lodge, 648; Wilkinsburg, Devore Lodge, 676. Besides these, the following Encampments were represented: Pittsburgh, No. 82; Morgantown, No. 87; Birmingham, 187; Robert Blum, 155.

Mr. G. K. Scott was elected permanent chairman, and Messrs. Bendal and Fresch Secretaries.

On motion of Mr. Ulrich a committee of arrangements was appointed, consisting of two delegates from the four districts of the different Lodges of Allegheny county. From Allegheny, Messrs. G. K. Reynolds and Bhliter; from Pittsburgh, James B. Williams, Frank C. O'Brien; from Birmingham, David Deacon, Christ. Gaeffice; eastern district, Mr. Aber, B. F. Tarr.

The committee then retired to deliberate about the programme, and during their absence speeches were made by several members.

The committee reported the following programme. The First Division, consisting of Allegheny and the Eastern District, to form on Market street, right resting on Water. The Third Division to form on Smithfield street, the right resting on Fifth avenue. The procession to move at precisely 9 o'clock. The First Division to move up Water to Wood street and there pass the Second Division to Fifth avenue, up Fifth to Smithfield, passing the Third Division to Water street, up Water to Grant, along Grant to Sixth avenue, down Sixth avenue to Liberty, along Liberty street to Penn, along Penn to Wayne, up Wayne to Liberty, along Liberty to Smithfield, along Smithfield to the Monongahela bridge, along Carson street to Sixteenth, along Tenth to Bingham, along Bingham to Thirteenth, along Thirteenth to Washington, up Washington to Fifteenth, down Fifteenth to Carson, along Carson to Twenty-sixth, along Twenty-sixth to Sarah street, and thence to the place where the corner stone ceremonies will take place.

There will be a large number of bands of music in the procession.

The meeting adjourned to meet at Turner Hall on Saturday evening next.

SOWING HIS WILD OATS AT AN EARLY AGE.—Several weeks ago a boy about ten years of age, giving his name as Henry Boyle, came to Allegheny, saying that his home was in Lancaster, and that he had got into a freight car to play, had been locked up and brought to this city. He was given a place with a benevolent gentleman, who resides on the Washington road. Yesterday the father of the boy arrived from Lancaster, and stated that the boy had run away from home. The old gentleman had not left the Mayor's office long when the boy returned, having run away from his new home. He was locked up, and the same benevolent gentleman who had given him a home before appeared and took charge of him until his father should call for him.

ALLEGED FRAUDULENT HORSE TRADE.—John Keyser, one of the trustees of the Ellsworth Hose Company, came to the office of Alderman Mullin, of Allegheny, yesterday, and stated that a man named John Seiling obtained from the Treasurer of the company the sum of fifty dollars and a bay horse valued at two hundred and ninety-five dollars, by way of a trade for a black mare belonging to the defendant. The trade was effected by the defendant representing that the mare was sound and a good worker, etc., which representations, as is alleged, were untrue. A warrant was issued for the arrest of the accused.

A true woman, a loving, devoted wife, a fond mother, and a charitable, Christian neighbor, has been called suddenly in the prime of her life and usefulness from this world of trouble, to enjoy a blissful eternity in that other, better land where sickness and sorrow, pain and death, never, never come. To the bereaved husband, left with two helpless babes, the younger only six weeks old, all human sympathy is mockery. He who doeth all things well, and without whose knowledge a sparrow falleth not to the ground, must be his comforter and supporter.

It has upon it a Salt Works, now in operation, but under lease for a term of years, yet it is paying the owner of the property about $500 per annum. There is also a Saw Mill, which is also rented, and which brings a revenue of $150 per annum. Also, two Dwelling Houses, and an old Grist Mill, good Water Power, &c., &c. Taking it in all, this property would pay for itself in a few years, as a man with some family could cultivate, and make a comfortable living off the Farm, and derive a good income from the Salt Works and Saw Mill. SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 6, 1869.

THE official list of uncalled for letters in the Pittsburgh Post Office is given to-day on the Third page, where it will be found every Saturday hereafter.

IT is believed that Gen. GRANT has fixed on the Hon. CHARLES J. FOLGER, of Geneva, as Gen. BUTTERFIELD's successor in the office of Assistant Treasurer. That would be an appointment fit to be made. But we doubt if Mr. FOLGER will accept. He is at present a member of the State Senate, from which body he cannot well be spared.

MR. VALLANDIGHAM nominates Mr. CHASE for President. By pursuing "a liberal policy towards those not hitherto acting with us," says he, "which we are sure the Democracy will pursue, all will yet end well. The essential principles of the party must be preserved, or all is lost. The Democratic organization can be preserved, then, while at the same time cutting itself loose from all dead issues and obsolete questions." The party must indeed be in a bad way when it hopes to improve its condition by taking up Mr. CHASE.

IN view of Mrs. STOWE's announcement that she is about to perpetrate a volume on the BYRON scandal, the question is put, has the Atlantic Monthly decided to have nothing further to do with the odious mess, or does Mrs. STOWE conclude that it is so good a thing that she will keep it all to herself? Prurient literature, to our extreme discredit be it said, is in demand; consequently "much monish" must be in Mrs. STOWE's intended volume. To what extent considerations of this character have been at the bottom of the scandalous business from the outset, will probably never be fully avowed.

ACCORDING to the Evening Post, New York has not made much progress in the labor of purification of the Legislature, in which respect the result is in striking contrast with that in Pennsylvania. Here, the progress has been considerable and gratifying. The Post sums up as follows:

> A certain number of practised and vigorous corruptionists have been elected together with a large number of weak and pliable men, who can be "seen" and used. The corruption which pervades both parties in this city has, by the device of governing New York at Albany, now pretty thoroughly infected the politicians of the interior also the prizes which may be picked up by a judicious and wide awake pirate, at Albany during a winter, are important enough to make a seat in the Legislature an object to rogues. We shall have no reform until the Legislature is prohibited all special legislation whatever, and confined to the passage of general laws alone.

OUR information from different parts of the State is that members recently elected to the Legislature are little disposed, in electing a Speaker of the Assembly, to indorse the most odious proceedings of last winter, but will be likely to select some one for that station who has a clear record. In this excellent determination we are pleased to hear their Republican constituents are prepared to give them a warm support. We expect to see the work of economy and reform commenced at the start and adhered to till the close of the session. Coming together with such a determination the Legislature cannot fail of deserving well from their constituents.

WE have received information, which we deem entirely reliable, that the President will tender the appointment of Circuit Judge, for the Third Circuit, (comprising Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Delaware,) to the Hon. WM. MCKENNAN, of Washington, Pa. This information is important, as foreshadowing the general character of the judicial appointments soon to be made. Without any disparagement of the abilities, merits, or claims of other gentlemen of the bar, whose names have been mentioned in connection with this judgeship, we do not hesitate to express our own conviction that President GRANT could not make a better nomination. Eminently qualified by ability, learning and experience, and of the purest integrity, united with every social virtue, Mr. MCKENNAN is well adapted to maintain the high reputation which the Federal judiciary of this Circuit has sustained from the organization of the Government. We shall congratulate General GRANT if he is as fortunate in the other selections so soon to be made.

NOT DEAD BUT LIVETH.

As nothing has been heard recently from the gentlemen having in charge the project for the establishment of a State Normal School in this district, an impression has got hold of some minds that the enterprise has been abandoned. We are gratified to state that such is not the fact, and that the prospects for the school are exceedingly favorable. Though the liberality of JAMES KELLY, Esq., a site of ten acres, eligibly located on the Pennsylvania Railroad, between Brushton and Wilkinsburg, has been donated and accepted, and a committee appointed to prepare a plan for raising the funds and managing the institution. The Committee is composed of Messrs. F. C. NEGLEY, J. B. LYON and MOSES CHESS, and while they have not yet agreed upon a plan, there is a probability that they will do so ere long. The law providing for the establishment of Normal Schools does not define exactly the mode to be pursued, but requires that "the pecuniary affairs shall be managed and the general control exercised by a Board of Trustees, to be chosen by the contributors or stockholders." The point of difference between the members of the Committee, as we understand it, is whether all the money shall be represented by stock, or by contributions, or partly by stock and partly by donations, as the subscribers may desire. It is, of course, important that the best plan should be adopted, and to this end all the material points should be carefully weighed by the Committee. The course pursued in the establishment of other schools of like character in the State, would probably serve as a safe guide, and the committee should have no difficulty in arriving at a satisfactory conclusion. The professional training of young men and women as teachers for the common schools, is a work of great importance, and there is no place in the Commonwealth where a Normal School would be productive of more good than in this vicinity. The district comprises three counties—Allegheny, Beaver and Butler—and with such a munificent donation of land, amounting in value to about forty thousand dollars, there should not be the slightest difficulty in raising the requisite amount of money to erect the buildings. We are assured that the Committee will agree upon a plan at an early day, and give the public an opportunity to aid the project by advancing the necessary funds.

THE ADMINISTRATION OF JUSTICE.

Our remarks a few days since in reference to the organization of a City Police Court, has received gratifying attention and commendation; and we find that while nothing has been said or done towards correcting the abuses to which we refer, the public are fully cognizant of them, and will heartily join in any efforts which will bring about a change. The outrageous perversions of law, and the constant oppression of individuals, on the part of magisterial and ministerial officers—all who are either directly or indirectly interested in fees and emoluments—have become notorious throughout the county, and received the repeated condemnation of Grand Juries and Courts. This subject presents itself in a double aspect, and either is sufficient in itself to call for prompt action. In the first place, the administration of justice has become so loose and uncertain as to bring our magisterial system into contempt in the minds of many, and create serious doubts as to the stability and purity of what we were wont to boast of as the "palladium of our liberties." And yet, while this is painfully true, it is not so much the abuses of the jury box of which we complain, as of the oppression and tyranny resulting from the malice of prosecutors, the ignorance and cupidity of police magistrates, and the avarice of those who depend upon them for costs and fees. The exceptions are so rare, that the whole machinery may be characterized as rotten and corrupt, and those who run it as actuated mainly by a desire to filch all they can from the county treasury. There was a time when men regarded "the dignity of the office of magistrate," "the rights and liberties of the accused," and "the sacred right of trial by jury." But in the light of the modern administration of justice, especially at the hands of our city magistrates, how like a mockery such phrases appear! The degradation and prostitution of which we speak is not confined to our own locality, but is wide spread, and other populous cities in the country have before them a work which they cannot much longer delay. If we would preserve our free institutions in their purity; if we would guard and protect the rights of the people; if we would defend the weak and the unfortunate from outrage and oppression; if we would, in a word, keep pure the fountains of justice, and beget in the nation a wholesome respect for the laws, we must root out the cancers and cankers which are now consuming the body politic. The other phase of this subject is its pecuniary aspect—which, although not so important, nevertheless appeals strongly to the public sense. Extravagance, and a reckless and useless squandering of our means, run through our social, commercial and administrative affairs. Especially is this the case in the various branches of the public service, for the reason that there is a loose morality in regard to appropriating and misapplying the public moneys. To get rid of this expensive element—that which costs us needlessly, with no compensating advantage—is the object which all should aim to accomplish. That such changes could be made in the criminal machinery of this city and county as to save thousands of dollars to the people, prevent innumerable peculations, insure a vastly higher degree of respect for the laws and confidence in our magistrates, and vouchsafe to every citizen his full constitutional rights, is a proposition so apparent that all see and indorse it, except those who are so blinded by self-interest that they do not want to see.

OHIO POLITICS—ORGANIZATION OF THE LEGISLATURE.

At the October election in Ohio for State officers and members of the Legislature, it will be remembered there was a very close contest, and that the complexion of both branches of the Legislature, politically speaking, depends to a great extent on the position the four Senators and the ten Representatives chosen from Hamilton county will assume in its organization.

As constituted, and giving to the Hamilton county members credit for their past political proclivities, the Legislature will stand:

SENATE.

Republicans........18
Democrats........17

REPRESENTATIVES.

Republicans........57
Democrats........54

This shows a Republican majority, including the Hamilton county delegation, of one in the Senate, and three in the House. But if the two Republican Senators and the five representatives elected on a citizens' ticket, in Cincinnati, attach themselves to the Democrats in the organization by the two houses, it will change things materially, and on this fact depends the organization of the two houses, and possibly an event of national significance—the ratification of the Fifteenth Amendment.

A great deal depends on the organization of the Legislature, about the success of the Fifteenth Amendment,—that is, if a Democratic or mongrel organization impends, it will be in the favor of the reactionists. But if the Republicans succeed, the Amendment will be ratified, the old fashioned ideas of southern Ohio to the contrary notwithstanding.

That is the point in Ohio politics just now. So important is it that the Cincinnati Commercial sent a reporter last week to interview all the members elect to the Legislature from its own county. We cannot see that he derived any satisfaction from his "interviews."

The Republican candidates for Speaker of the House of Representatives, on which legislation depends to a great extent, are enumerated to us as follows:

R. B. DENNIS, of Cleveland, Cuyahoga county; member of the last Legislature.

Mr. VAN VOORHES, of Athens county, Speaker of the House at one time; and

Hon. PETER HITCHCOCK, of Geauga, at one time Speaker of the House.

To this we must add, that Mr. DENNIS is and will be supported very strongly in Northern Ohio, and that this part of the State comprises the Republican majority in the Legislature.

But to complicate matters, a Mr. CUNNINGHAM, of the citizens' delegation from Cincinnati, comes forward as a Republican or Independent candidate for Speaker.

This is only formidable from the fact that Cincinnati controls the political organization of the Legislature. It is a mere question of whether the Cincinnatians elected to the Legislature as Republicans on a Citizens' ticket, shall dictate its organization, or whether it shall be done on a fair and square vote from all the Republicans of the State elected to the Legislature.

As further connected with the organization, it is understood that B. J. LOOMIS, of Columbus, is named for Clerk of the House, and Mr. HALL, of Columbus, for Secretary of the Senate. This by the Republicans.

The point of all is simple: The political complexion of the Legislature depends upon the Hamilton county members; the Democrats are using every effort to secure them; the Presidential prospects of Mr. PENDLETON are involved; but still it seems to us the Republicans elect from that county will join in an organization of their own party in preference to that of their opponents.

On the other point that the Hamilton delegation will seek to elect one of their number—a Mr. CUNNINGHAM—Speaker of the House, we hear there is a very general determination on the part of Democrats and Republicans of Central and Northern Ohio, that if this contingency is presented the two parties will consent to a fusion organization. Ohio abounds in such precedents, in one of which Mr. CHASE was chosen Senator as far back as almost twenty years ago.

"THE DAY" is the title of Mr. Cumming's new paper in Philadelphia, the first number of which has reached us. It is published for one cent, with dimensions to correspond. Avowing that the paper "is pledged to early and practical reconstruction, and the restoration of the Southern States under their necessarily altered social organization, to the great brotherhood of the Ancient States," the editor declares that "The Day" will be "a new organ of independent opinion," and proceeds to define more particularly what will be its character and purpose, as follows:

> "The momentous events of the last nine years, the actual fruits of which are hardly yet gathered, have worked vast political and social changes. Politically they have disintegrated parties. If they have not upheaved the foundation, they have certainly shaken the superstructure of all political organizations. A politician of twenty, or even ten years ago, awakening from sleep would not know where to find refuge or what companionship to seek. Party lines, once strictly drawn, and which marked the limits of action and opinion precisely, are if not actually broken, so irregular as to admit of any variety of doctrine and practice. The independent press speaks no longer to bigoted, political sectaries, but to reasoning human beings and its voice is listened to. If social relations in this peculiar autonomy of ours can be distinguished from those which are political, we are confronting a great peaceful crisis, when considerate and unselfish words may be fitly uttered."

The field and purpose could not be more satisfactorily set forth. The articles of the initial number are well written and the topics judiciously chosen. "The Day" evidently aims to obtain a local rather than a general circulation and influence, and we should say that it is likely to meet with a reasonable degree of success. The report that Col. McClure is associated with Mr. Cummings is confirmed by no announcement in the paper, but is probable nevertheless.

MR. JAMES A. HAMILTON, son of Alexander Hamilton, has recently published a volume of political reminiscences. Mr. Hamilton wrote a letter of advice to the Secretary of the Treasury, which, however, he does not publish in his new volume. He gives the Secretary's reply, which is quite interesting. It is as follows:

> "WASHINGTON, D. C., July 15, 1862.
>
> "MY DEAR SIR: Your excellent note is just received. I will send it to the President, and shall be glad if he will read it and heed it. I have seen little of him for some time past; when he thinks fit to seek my counsel or to impart his own, I attend his summons. Otherwise, I confine myself to my own special work. What I think ought to be done is generally undone, and what I think ought not to be done so generally done, that I am led to doubt greatly the value of my views on any subject.
>
> "Your friend, S. P. CHASE."

CONCERNING the New Jersey election the Newark Courier says: "We feel perfectly satisfied with the result in New Jersey, and have not the slightest doubt of our being able to return a Legislature next year that will elect a Republican United States Senator. We have gained all that could be reasonably expected, and are really in a better position with the Executive and Senate against us, than if we had a majority in the lower House, as we escape all responsibility, and yet are powerful enough to prevent hostile legislation of a partisan character."

THE New York Sun will not let Mr. Greeley alone. In Thursday's issue it says: "To-day we nominate Horace Greeley for the next Governor of New York. We nominate him as the independent, Democratic, Republican candidate. We nominate him in opposition to the tyrant Hoffman. The rumbling of the distant thunder has already been heard. When the next election for Governor comes on, the lightning will strike."

THE New York Mail concludes a dissertation on November sports as follows: Our experience is that one can do nothing to fortify the body against the rigors of the American winter like spending a week or two with dog and gun upon the hillsides during the month of November.

GOV. GEARY, who has been quite seriously ill for several days, is improving, and expects soon to resume his duties in the Executive Chamber.

A WEEK'S RUN.

Niles, Notre Dame, and an Interview.

A mild October morning; a sun with tempered brilliancy shining through the hazy medium of an Indian Summer atmosphere; two rows of houses, warehouses and shops, high enough to wear an imposing appearance, and compactly and variously built of red brick, yellow brick, and marble from the native quarries, fencing in a street that runs from East to West, and is the main thoroughfare of the place; other avenues running parallel to it, and at right angles with it, bounded by lots of larger breadth and depth, dotted with cottages and other more imposing edifices; churches with turrets and spires; neatness and cleanliness visible everywhere, and the whole lying like a petted favorite in the bosom of a river, whose waters, clear as the rarest specimen of flint-ware ever molten in a Pittsburgh furnace, and fashioned into a wine-glass—you have in its most conspicuous features, such a description as the writer of Waiting for a Verdict would open a tale with, of one of the most inviting towns under chartered existence in the State of Michigan, as seen under the favorable auspices of the hour in which this is written.

The city of Niles is situated on the St. Joseph River, about twenty-five miles from its mouth and occupies ground memorable in history as a scene where figured some of the most eminent among the many distinguished of the Jesuit missionaries of two hundred years ago. It is peopled chiefly by inhabitants of New England origin, who still maintain unimpaired the peculiarities of the Universal Center whence they came. They will dam a stream and build a saw-mill on it; they will erect a school-house that would do credit to a town of twenty times the population of their own; they will swap jack-knives, when they can't trade horses, on the streets, by way of episode to transactions of larger importance; they will span their waters with free bridges and think nothing of their achievements. Their boast is never of what they have done, but always of what they mean to do. A year or so ago, men from rival towns, on occasional visits, used to say, as they looked at the river flowing by with its rapid current, "This stream has power in it, but the Niles folk don't see it and they can't put it to any use;" but the Niles folk, put to their mettle, answered: "dam it we can;" and dam it they did. The water-power is an accomplished fact, and force enough is brought into subservience through that one finished channel to do the work of four thousand horses. Great manufacturing establishments are now the topic of interest to put the power to profit, and work up into merchantable products the forests of choice timber with which the upper part of the peninsula abounds. Otherwise the achievement is scarcely spoken of. Mills once erected to utilize to the fullest extent the power of the four thousand horses, it is designed to dig new races and so to continue the "damnition" work (as Mr. Mantilini would observe) until the equivalent of the strength of half the horses in the State is harnessed to machinery, and sewing machines, pianos and parlor furniture generally become the staples of the valley, and Niles the emporium of the trade of the occident in cabinet commodities. If zeal, enterprise and a confident faith in the future are to be depended upon, their expectations may be fully realized, and at no distant day.

Yesterday our party took a ride to Notre Dame. The University known under this designation, is planted on the bank of the St. Joseph River about ten miles south of Niles. We met with a cordial reception from Father Corby, the Principal of the Institution, who, upon being informed of the object of our visit, called in one of the fraternity to lead and enlighten us in our exploration of the building. "Brother Peter," said the worthy father, as he handed him a bunch of the implements, "will carry the keys—which is the proper function of Peter, you know—and conduct you through the various apartments." Brother Peter proved a very complaisant and patient cicerone. The structure is one hundred and sixty feet in length, by eighty in width, and six stories high. In the basement of each of the wings is a refectory, the space under the main building between, being divided into two extensive wash-rooms by a corridor, seventeen feet wide, connecting the refectories. On the first floor are the study room, the President and Secretary's offices and the parlor; on the second the Professors, apartments and thirteen class-rooms; on the third and fourth, each, two large dormitories, (80x40), five professors' and the same number of music rooms, and on the fifth, three large dormitories and a very handsome chapel. Above the roof is the observatory. Within the dome overhead are suspended two crowns—one, the least expensive but the prettier, a fac simile in heavily plated gold of the crown of the Queen of France. The dome itself is surmounted with a colossal statue of the Virgin, wearing the crown of the twelve biblical stars, and with her foot crushing the head of a serpent.

The points which specially challenge our admiration about this Institution, are its perfect arrangements for heating and ventilating the apartments; the immaculate cleanliness everywhere prevalent from the oaken floors of the halls to the linens of the dormitories; the neat dress, as well as the gentmanly address, of the three hundred students in attendance, and the excellent order which rules, during recesses as at recitations, on the play-ground as in the class-rooms.

St. Mary's Academy for young ladies is a corresponding building, standing a mile apart from the College towards the West, under the 'Superior'-ship of Mother M. Angela, a highly refined and intelligent lady. The sleeping arrangements here are similar to those at the College, save that each bed has a wash-stand at its side supplied with the ordinary pottery-ware, with a mirror framed in its head-piece. One wing of the building is appropriated to music, containing a large singing hall, and forty rooms, each one furnished with either a harp or a piano. We were escorted through the Academy by Sister Irene, who, in her black veil, white frill, heart-shaped collar about the neck, and black dress, to say nothing of her amiable manners, seemed the beau-ideal in personification of a nun.

Space fails me to speak of the Manual Labor School; the Infirmary; the St. Francis Home; the Professed Brothers' House; the Novitiates of St. Joseph and of the Salvatorists; the Chapel of our Lady of the Angels; the Hall devoted to Natural History, the Museum and the libraries; the organ, the chimes and the great bell; nor can I venture to write of the improvements wrought upon the extensive lands of the Institution—its farms, its lakes, its orchards and its gardens.

We of other forms of faith might be taught a valuable lesson from examples such as are set before our eyes in NOTRE DAME. Education here (especially in the female department) is carried on upon such a scale of magnitude, and through such a thorough system of training (it takes seven years to complete the course) as, in the comparison, to make the best of ours appear weak and contemptible.

Our tour of Notre Dame ended, we extended our ride to South Bend. Here we visited the Vice President, who lives in a neat, drab-colored cottage on an edge of the town. To say that he has the easy, cordial, polite manners of the highest type of gentleman, would be to repeat what every body knows of him, and what every body don't know of all of the order of which he used to be the head member at Washington. We interviewed him. We sounded him upon various topics. We drew out of him his opinion of the weather, in which we were gratified to find that our sentiments nearly coincided—ours being that "it was a pleasant afternoon," his the same, with the single qualification, that "it was rather cool for the season." He inquired very cordially into the state of our health, (this was when we were presented to him at first,) when we were happy to assure him that "we were very well, thank you," and to venture upon a reciprocity of inquiry. We are averse to reporting the details of confidential interviews with distinguished men, but the country may rest assured that Mr. Colfax is to be depended upon. He will do to tie to.

To-morrow we bid adieu to the friendly people of Niles, and if in our further jaunt to Chicago, and other towns of high ambition found squatting upon these vast western levels, we meet with half the kindness so liberally spent upon us here, we may well say, in the last-word language of Adams, we are content. N.

JEFFERSON AS AN INVENTOR.—It is told of Jefferson that, having conceived the idea of erecting a saw mill, he selected a site which, owing to its elevation, afforded an unusual advantage in the way of a chute for the fresh the sawed lumber. Before entering upon the work he consulted his manager, who, without detracting from the proposed chute, gravely inquired how the statesman proposed to get the logs up—a query that put a stop to further discussion as to the merits of the plan. The great statesman was not, however, devoid of inventive talent, which he exercised in a more artistic way. He designed what he termed the American capital for architectural purposes, intended to replace those derived from classic times. It was mainly made up of ears of corn and leaves of tobacco, and was beautiful enough to merit greater attention than it received.

BEER BREWING IN BAVARIA.—Before 1811, all the breweries in the country belonged to the clergy and nobility, who had the exclusive privilege of brewing. They were not allowed to sell beer, but had simply the profitable right of brewing for others. To-day, the brewer has simply to procure a license, which is granted to any one. The malt he uses is carefully measured and weighed, as on it alone he has to pay his internal revenue tax. The Bavarian brewer is by law allowed to use nothing whatever besides malt, hops and water in the manufacture of his beer—an enactment much needed here. The first violation of this law makes him liable to a fine of $75; the second, to a fine of $213, the third causes the immediate confiscation of his property.

AN undefined apprehension of a revolution exists all over Europe. An immense strike, beginning with the clerks, and extending to all branches of business, is in progress in Paris, and the French are a people who seem to be moved by electric impulses, so that if an outbreak were to occur, it might become general and irrisistible. The Orleanists are seeking to lead the opposition, but thus far without success. If the physical health of the Emperor were good he might find a way to right himself. But he is overwhelmed by his infirmities and incapable of exertion, while the men who in the early days of his usurpation stood ever at the elbow to prompt him to desperate deeds, are all dead. Walewski, Morny, St. Armand and others have passed away.

AN intelligent London correspondent regards the publication of Lady Byron's letters to Augusta Leigh as ending the scandal raised by Mrs. Stowe. "Letters that leave for Mrs. Stowe but one course to take—to confess that she has been deceived by a crazy woman, and to beg the world's pardon for her ill-judged publication of that horrible delusion. She may find some excuse for having given currency to the falsehood—to defend it as a truth is no longer possible."

IT is asserted that some very high and unusual influences were brought to bear on the court of Rome to obtain the secularization of Father Hyacinthe, but without avail. It is believed that he must suffer excommunication. His successor in the pulpit of Notre Dame is a Dominican named Pere Montsabre.

RELIGIOUS WEEKLIES.

OUR CHURCHES.

Denominational and Personal.

PRESBYTERIAN.

THE REUNION.

The Banner closes an article on the approaching reunion, which is to take place in this city, next week, in the following words:

> "With feelings we shall not attempt to describe, we approach a day that will be memorable in the annals of Presbyterianism. As we have been accustomed, for more than thirty years, to look back to the period of the disruption as an era in our history, so, but we trust with happier recollections, will those who come after us recur to the event we are upon the eve of witnessing. Let us hope they will date back to it as the dawn of a new and brighter day, in the record of the work our beloved Church shall be enabled to accomplish for the final triumph of the kingdom of the Redeemer."

THE LORD'S SUPPER IN THE SIERRA MOUNTAINS.

Rev. A. M. Stewart, employed in missionary work along the line of the Central Pacific Railroad, writes from the Sierra Nevadas, detailing his "rugged and laborious" experience in that wild region. A single extract is appended:

> "The sacrament of the Supper was dispensed to the new organization in White Pine on the Sabbath before our leaving, and thus for the first time in all that vast region was the death of Jesus commemorated according to his dying command. Previous to its celebration, twenty-one persons were added to the communion of the church. The season was one of earnestness, pleasure and profit."

MINISTERIAL CHANGES.

Rev. W. F. Kean and Rev. W. P. Harvison, of the Presbytery of Allegheny, have been dismissed—the former to the Presbytery of Iowa, and the latter to the Presbytery of Ohio. John Junkin Francis, licentiate, from Beaver Presbytery, has been installed pastor of the church of Freeport, Allegheny county.

The First Church of Alliance, Ohio, New Lisbon Presbytery, has given a unanimous call to Rev. J. S. Grimes, of Rockford, Ill.

UNITED PRESBYTERIAN.

POLITICAL CORRUPTION.

The United Presbyterian discusses editorially the subject of "The Press and Political Corruption." We quote:

> The political press, to a very large extent, controls the elections and therefore should be held responsible for the elevation of unscrupulous men to office. Unfortunately, it has not always the moral conscience and courage to oppose the election of nominees of the same party who are known to be morally unfit. Party drill is so severe that the risk of "bolting" is very great. The cry of "false to the party" may suddenly reduce a circulation small enough already, and therefore silence the opposition of many. Unscrupulous men also know well how to manipulate papers. We do not bring any sweeping charge against our political press. Its character is even higher than that of many who succeed in securing its support. There are papers earnestly laboring for the success of their party, which do not hesitate to denounce the corrupt officials and politicians who seek the suffrage of the people. But the responsibility of the press for the prevailing official corruption is not generally felt as it should be. Journals hide the conscience of their editors and managers under the impersonality of the paper, and throw the responsibility of the election upon the people. But this responsibility cannot thus be thrown off, for the press moulds the popular sentiment, and has the power to defeat any improper nomination.

EDUCATION OF YOUNG MEN FOR THE MINISTRY.

The Executive Committee of the Board of Education publish an appeal to the church for more liberal contributions for the education of young men for the work of the ministry. They declare that "many young men of piety and talents, in the church, are seeking preparation for the ministry who are unable, without assistance, to obtain the education necessary to qualify them for that work." The appeal concludes by stating that an average of twelve cents per year from each communicant is all that is needed to support the fund.

MINISTERS AND CHURCHES.

At a late meeting of the Butler Presbytery, Mr. R. F. Miller was licensed to preach the gospel. Mr. J. S. Campbell, of Muskingum Presbytery, has been ordained and installed pastor of Mt. Hermon Congregation. T. J. Kennedy, of Mansfield Presbytery, has received a call from the congregation of Steubenville, which was sustained and transmitted to his Presbytery.

METHODIST EPISCOPAL.

THE GROWTH OF THE CHURCH.

The Christian Advocate discusses this question, and states that "the drift of the Methodist Church, since the substitution of extravagance throughout the nation for the simplicity and economy that ruled in ante-war times, has been perhaps too intensely material," and adds:

> "We are building churches rivaling in massiveness and grandeur the cathedrals of European countries, and laying educational foundations scarcely less colossal in proportions than any now venerable with the accumulations of centuries. In the beginning of the current decade our church and parsonage property was valued at $22,235,372, and now it has attained an aggregate of $47,863,501. This wonderful material growth, if the visible putting forth of a lusty life, is in every way commendable and an evidence of real progress. It is in its place, right and good. It has its importance and utility. But it may be that we are showing too much extravagance in church building, making many of our houses of worship too costly, investing in them vast sums of money that might be better employed in other directions. And it is questionable whether our spiritual life has kept pace with our material improvements."

The editor remarks that caution is needed here, lest soul-saving be overlooked in church building and beautifying.

A METHODIST COLLEGE AT PITTSBURGH.

Prof. A. B. Hyde, in an article commenting on the gift of Orange Judd, of $50,000, to the Wesleyan University, says:

> "There are now two successful Methodist Colleges, eight hundred miles apart. If we are true to our call to take a full share in the religious culture of this country, there will arise between these two a third one. They cannot do all the work of highest education. Another is needed. Where shall this be?
>
> A college in this region is yet to arise. By the teaching of the times ought we not to look for it at Pittsburgh? Why not?
>
> 1. No place in this region equals Pittsburgh in population, wealth and enterprise. Bishop Janes said: "A good site for a hotel is the true site for a Methodist church." Exactly as true a site for a college! Convents may go to rural scenes where land is cheap. Education must be where life is stirring.
>
> 2. In a place like Pittsburgh where money is made, men are most likely to arise of large convictions and large means, desirous of helping their race. Thus men can be more readily enlisted in enterprises under their eyes. Men incline to "plant their potatoes where they can see them grow." The local patronage of such a city gives room a body of resident alumni, with men competent to serve on various committees. To such a center gathers talent in the various professions, whose contact is of great value to the student and which can be realized in no country town.
>
> 3. The building of a Methodist College at Pittsburgh would silence many rivalries and harmonize the pretensions of existing Institutions. It would furnish an acknowledged educational head to this region which would be above competition, because of a grade positively superior to any now to be found, men not living in its vicinity would be more likely to aid it there, than to send their funds to any obscure rural town.
>
> One might say much of such a matter, and perhaps in another communication more may be said. A college at Pittsburgh, a real college, furnished, endowed, and manned as the Methodists of the region could do it, would be a blessing and an ornament to Methodism and the city. If we are to have such a college it must apparently be there. If not this generation, the next may assume so noble an enterprise and cause the stream of wealth which must ever converge to Pittsburgh to invigorate the learning, the culture and the civilization of this intermediate region.

CATHOLIC.

A FLAT DENIAL.

The Catholic copies the brief article which appeared in the COMMERCIAL a few days ago, relative to the course of the Catholic press in defending European abuses and tyrannies. The following is the reply to our article:

> The only reply we need make to this serious extract is best and most briefly expressed in the simple words, it is false. It is not a fact that the American Catholic press is the willing and eager defender of all manner of abuses in Europe. It is not a fact that every dethroned tyrant is the object of their sympathy; it is not a fact that "the aspirations of the people for religious or political freedom is (sic) sure to afford subject for ridicule and denunciation;" it is not true that the people of purely Catholic countries are growing weary of the Church or of the authority of the Holy See; it is not true that the Catholic press of America "are stout defenders of the divine right of any king," much less them of the most tyrannical and despotical of rulers.
>
> It is true that the Catholic press abhor and denounce license, whilst they love and defend liberty; it is true that they hate tyranny, but reverence those who justly exercise power; it is true that they denounce the madness of people that mistake license for freedom, irreligion for freedom of religion, sacrilege and rapine for equal rights; it is true that they uphold authority, believing that "all power cometh from God," whilst they deny emphatically that this or that ruler is by right divine king; it is true that they defend the superiority of the Church above all human authority, and denounce every encroachment on the right of the Church by whomsoever, wheresoever, and under whatsoever title attempted, basing this action on the principles that it is a man's duty to obey God rather than men, that the authority of the Church is higher than and anterior to all merely human authority.
>
> Any man, unless blinded by prejudice, must see that the work going on in Spain and Austria, and Italy, is not the work of the people, nor is it in the interest of freedom, but, on the contrary, is directly intended to fetter and enslave the Church.

THE EXPULSION OF MR. STUART.

The Christian Radical deals severely with the United Presbyterian for declaring that "the Reformed Synod did right in expelling Geo. H. Stuart for hymn-singing and communing with other than his own people." The Radical says:

> We suspect Mr. Stuart cares as little for the above opinion, even less than he did for the expelling act of his Synod. He has just this consolation: that any body that expels a man from its membership and communion for singing hymns and exhibiting a spirit of fellowship for others whom he accounts Christians, is no church of Christ, and that, therefore, he has not lost church membership by being expelled from it.
>
> Right here the question is asked, "has the church not the right to make such rules as it chooses to govern itself?" And then it is further said, "If a man does not like these rules he need not become a member." In the first place a church has no right to make a rule that lies away from the broad, full spirit of Jesus Christ. The moment it does, it forfeits all claims to being called the Church of Christ, and its legislation will only look to the support of opinion and sect. And in the second place a man has a right to go in and remain in a body that says it is a Christian Church, who is a Christian, "born of God," and is living an earnest Christly life. And any man who says no to this does it not for Christ's sake, nor for the sake of holiness, love, truth, liberty or justice, but to support an ism, a belief, a dogma, a denomination. Nothing more. For nothing else than this was Stuart expelled, and the United Presbyterian thinks it did right. Well!

THE CUBAN ARMY.

Negro Soldiers—What the Cause Needs.

A private letter from Gen. Jordan, lately received, speaks in the highest terms of the bravery, the docility, and the fidelity of the negroes in his corps of the Cuban army. The white soldiers serve with them without protest, and so slight is the prejudice of color, that in many cases the non-commissioned officers are selected from among the blacks, and their orders are obeyed by white as well as black soldiers. In some cases commissions are held by mulattoes, who meet with no trouble in govering their white subordinates. Gen. Jordan says the negro troops fight as well as their lighter comrades, and sometimes better. His escort are all blacks, and are commanded by a negro sergeant, a splendid soldier. In regard to the wants of the Cuban army, Gen. Jordan expresses himself plainly. There was a time when he saw no necessity for taking American soldiers to Cuba to fight her battles. He now thinks that 2,500 or 3,000 good men, who have seen service in our armies, are essential to the success of the insurgents. They are needed as a nucleus around which to organize corps of men, to be rendered efficient by good example. With this number of trusty Americans, and a liberal supply of arms and ammunition, he is confident that the independence of Cuba must soon be gained, and that to, without a departure from the mode of warfare followed from the beginning of the revolution by the patriots.

THE Dutch, who have always been famous for canal-making, are now engaged in constructing an enormous one seventeen miles in length, from Amsterdam down to the North Sea below Velsem. They, of course, cut through a few miles of land on their way; but their great difficulty is building in the sea enormous banks, which are to constitute eternal barriers to the restless and swaying ocean, which has long been accustomed to turbulent behavior in this part of the world. The great breakwater at the North Sea will, with its lock-gates and great basin for the reception of vessels, project a mile into the violent waters. The area of the harbor will be above 200 acres, and the water will be deep enough to float the Great Eastern.

OBITUARY.

George Peabody.

The Atlantic cable brought the intelligence Thursday night of the death of George Peabody, at his residence in London. The event was not wholly unexpected, though there were those who hoped that a youth and manhood so judiciously lived would have carried him further beyond the Psalmist's age of three score years and ten than he finally reached. No philanthropist of this age had so endeared himself to all people speaking the English language as George Peadody, and though dead the record of his benefactions will exist for all time. Their frequency and munificence were not only surprising, but they were remarkable in that the donor was the administrator of his vast worldly effects. Such an example may have many imitators in time present and to come, but none can hope to eclipse the fame and name of the good man who inaugurated it.

Mr. Peabody was born in Danvers, Mass., February 18, 1795, of poor parents, and his early education was acquired in the district schools. At the age of eleven he became a grocer's clerk, which position he held four years. After spending a year with his grandfather, he entered his brother's dry goods store in Newburyport, where he remained until the store was destroyed by fire. His next venture was with his uncle in Georgetown, D. C., where he conducted a dry goods establishment in his own name, although a minor. Fearing he might be held responsible for debts he had not contracted, he left his uncle in 1814, and became a partner with Mr. Elisha Riggs, in the wholesale dry goods trade. In the year following the house was removed to Baltimore, where it soon attracted a large business, and in 1822 branch houses were established in New York and Philadelphia. In 1827 Mr. Peabody crossed the Atlantic for the first time to buy goods. In 1829 Mr. Riggs withdrew from the firm, and Mr. Peabody became senior partner. On his several visits to Europe, he conducted many important negotiations for the State of Maryland. Early in 1837, he took up his permanent residence in England. In 1843 he withdrew from the firm of Peabody, Riggs & Co., and established himself as a merchant and banker. Through his efforts the confidence in American monetary responsibilities, which had well nigh failed in the disastrous period of 1837, was maintained, and he rendered repeated and important favors in that respect to the State of Maryland, for which he refused all compensation. His house from its foundation to its close was the head-quarters of his countrymen in that city, and the center of American news and intelligence. In 1852, at the bi-centennial anniversary of his native town of Danvers, he sent a toast in a sealed envelope, as follows: "Education—a debt from the present to future generations;" and in order to pay his share of the debt a check of $20,000 was inclosed, to be expended in the founding of an institute, lyceum and library for the town. By subsequent gifts that amount was increased to nearly $200,000. In 1856-7 he gave the sum of $300,000, with a pledge to increase it to $500,000, to found an institute in Baltimore for the promotion of science, literature and the fine arts. About a year since he more than made his pledge good by donating to the institute $400,000 more. About the same time he donated $2,000,000 to be expended in the cause of education in the Southern States. His other benefactions are well known, and need not be repeated. The total sum given in charity by this good man during the past fifteen years reached fully ten millions dollars. The institutions of learning he founded will be his most enduring monuments.

FEARS are entertained that the Arctic whalers may be frozen up there. They have generally returned either to San Francisco or Honolulu during September and October, but up to the present time not one of them has made her appearance, a thing said to be unprecedented. It is supposed that they may have been induced to linger too long to fill up with oil, whales, probably, having become plentiful at the latter part of the season, so as to make up for the short catch in the early part, and have been caught in the ice. If so, they will not get out until spring.

UNITED STATES OF EUROPE.

How to Educate the People into Hatred of Empire and War.

GENEVA, October 1.—The question of a European Confederacy, as an essential to universal peace, was proposed and developed at the late Peace Congress of Lausanne. This idea of a United States of Europe was thoughtfully and ably discussed by various speakers during its earliest sessions. The necessity of establishing in Europe such an International Confederacy, which, to insure freedom and elasticity, should take the republican form; that it could be established only between nations already in the enjoyment of their social and political rights; that it might begin on a small scale, between three or four nations, and gradually influence others to join it; that no government should be admitted until it had adopted universal suffrage, as conducted in Federal Republics—such were some of the conclusions arrived at. One speaker quoted Thiers as having predicted a future confederacy of nations, to be realized under a republican form of government. Another delegate, M. Simon, of Treves, Germany, dwelt in detail upon the political materials now existing in Europe for the nucleus of such a system, to the following effect: We must first of all seek popular liberty, which is never found in a single legislative body. Nations need Unity in diversity, to keep equilibrium between all their forces. The French Republic has twice perished from centralization. Federalization enabled the United States to withstand the usurpations of President Johnson. Centralization gives equality, federalization gives liberty, but neither suffices—they must be combined.

The necessity of popularizing the ideas of the Peace Congress, and the best methods of doing it were thus urged by M. Buisson. We must, he contended, familiarize the masses with the idea of a United States of Europe; especially in those countries which are still farthest from such a realization. We have been busy making republics. We ought, for instance, to turn to those millions of Frenchmen who labor in field and workshop, and have no time or means to become familiar with our theories. Among such as can hardly read or write, we should disseminate these two ideas: First, that war can be abolished; second, that war must be abolished. We should organize a vast colportage of tracts and papers that shall make these principles of social right familiar and palpable in every village. The League should ask the help of every earnest man who believed that human life is sacred, and not to be sacrificed at the caprice of a tyrant. Not only in public meetings, in papers, and in Congresses, but also in popular customs, we must combat and extirpate the military sentiment in those apparently trifling habits which have an incalculable influence on individual education. We must combat the taste for uniform. The child must be imbued with the idea that arms—a sword, a musket, a cannon—are as detestable as are instruments of torture. Accustom children to thinking: "A uniform is a livery, and all livery is disgraceful—that of the priest and that of the soldier, that of the magistrate and that of the lackey." I would like to see a Voltaire busy for fifty years turning kings, armies, and wars into ridicule. In default of a genius, I would have thousands of men making it a duty to extirpate those foolish notions of glory that are still so common. Men must cease talking of the "God of Armies." At the fireside, in the school, in the street, we must mold public opinion until the abolition of war is written on the conscience of every man.—N. Y. Tribune.

7-40 Gold Bonds.

W. BAILEY LANG & CO.

Offer a limited amount of the

Chicago, Danville & Vincennes
RAILROAD COMPANY'S FIRST MORTGAGE
SINKING FUND BONDS,
AT 95 AND ACCRUED INTEREST.

The whole issue is $2,500,000, or less than $18,000 per mile of completed road, and is secured by First Mortgage upon 140 miles of Railroad, including equipment, franchises and all present and future acquired property of the Company.

This loan, together with the $2,100,000 Capital Stock already taken, furnishes ample means to build and equip the entire line, including rolling stock and every requisite outfit of a first-class railroad. Fifty-five miles, from Chicago to Momence, are completed and in operation, and much of the remaining portion is in a state of forwardness.

These Bonds are for $1,000 each, have forty years to run, and pay 7 per cent. semi-annual interest in gold, or nearly ten per cent. in currency.

BOTH PRINCIPAL AND INTEREST
Are payable in New York City, in UNITED STATES GOLD COIN.

These Bonds offer peculiar advantages to investors. The holders of Government Securities or Pacific Railroad Bonds may exchange them at a handsome profit. The holder of $10,000 in Governments may exchange them for $12,000 in these bonds, and receive $500 or $600 cash on the exchange. Then, instead of six per cent. gold interest on $10,000, and a still lower rate after their maturity, he will receive 7 per cent. gold, for forty years, on $12,000—

A difference in profit that will in the end nearly equal the face of the bond.

The holder of a Pacific Railroad Bond may sell—perhaps at a small loss—and reinvest in a bond of this road, and receive 7 per cent. gold interest for forty years, instead of 6 per cent. gold for thirty years.

The extra one per cent. profit on his investment would, as a sinking fund, at compound interest, amount to the par value of the bond itself.

Starting at Chicago, the C., D. & V. Railroad extends in a southerly direction through the eastern counties of Illinois, the whole adjacent country being well settled, and unsurpassed in richness of soil by any of the prairie States. For nearly one-third of its length, the road passes through

BROAD AND RICH COAL FIELDS,

That will abundantly supply Chicago with the best coal at a low price, for generations to come. It brings the CELEBRATED BRAZIL MINES, whose coal is unequalled for the manufacture of iron, ninety miles nearer to the city of Chicago, which may henceforward become the greatest iron manufacturing and distributing center in the country.

The road receives a large volume of freight as fast as it is opened for business, and a very moderate estimate upon its local business only, gives a net revenue equal to nearly

THREE TIMES THE SUM
Required for the
INTEREST AND SINKING FUND

Upon the ENTIRE ISSUE OF ITS BONDS. (See pamphlet.)

The through traffic must add considerably to this, as the road forms part of the

SHORTEST THROUGH LINE

From Chicago, via Terre Haute, Vincennes, Evansville and Nashville, to New Orleans, Mobile and Pensacola.

N. B.—It is appropriate to the commencement of another season that I should express my gratefulness to the many patrons who have, year after year, favored me with their support. To them, it is scarcely necessary to assert that the same attention to every item that belongs to a well-regulated establishment will be continued. To strangers about to select an academy in which to place their daughters and sons, a reference to the list of families who have placed their children under my charge, will be an assurance that my business, heretofore, has been properly conducted; and my own assurance that I am quite anxious to maintain my position as I have been to gain that position, will guarantee a continuance of the same exertion. To those who deem novelties an important feature, my many visits to Europe and correspondence there, will leave nothing to be desired on that point.

GENERAL AND PARTICULAR.

AN ANCIENT DAINTY DITTY.

My true love hath my heart, and I have his,
By just exchange one to the other given;
I hold his dear, and mine he cannot miss,
There never was a better bargain driven:
My true love hath my heart, and I have his.

His heart in me keeps him and me in one,
My heart in him his thoughts and senses guides:
He loves my heart, for once it was his own,
I cherish his, because in me it bides:
My true love hath my heart, and I have his.
—Sir Philip Sidney.

A duel with swords recently occurred in France between M. Lemot, an artist, and M. Aurelien Scholl, a literary man. The artist had published a caricature in one of the little satirical journals, at which M. Scholl felt himself aggrieved, and sent a challenge. M. Lemot, who is very young, and had never handled a rapier, was nevertheless content to gratify him, and a meeting took place, which resulted in the disarming and accidental wounding of the challenger.

A Boston shoe manufacturer is negotiating for a contract to employ three hundred convicts in the Virginia Penitentiary in the manufacture of boots and shoes. Gov. Walker has the proposition now under consideration. If accepted, the contractor will immediately invest $50,000 in permanent machinery, and a like amount in stock.

The Leake plantation in Madison parish, La., containing 2,690 acres, was a few days since sold by the United States Marshal for $3,000 cash. It was valued before the war at $300,000, and there were mortgages on it to the amount of $290,000.

Agriculturists in California are turning their attention to the raising of opium. The poppy plant, it is found, will grow there almost without cultivation, and the gathering of the juice of heads, of which opium consists, is as simple an operation as the making of maple sugar. Raw opium is worth about $20 a pound, and it will be seen that the pecuniary inducements to embark in the business are very great.

There seems to be rather an unpleasant state of things in the United States Court for the Southern District of Ohio. The Cincinnati Gazette says that "it has been impossible to obtain a verdict of 'guilty' there against parties concerned in whisky frauds, except in cases in which the amount involved was small and the parties not prominent. It has been found that one or two jurymen always 'hang.'" This is another of those facts already too numerous, which tend to bring the jury system into contempt. We should think, however, in the whisky cases, that the prosecuting officers, by judicious challenging and the personal examination of jurors on oath as to their freedom from an opinion already formed, might do something to purge the panel, especially if he should be seconded by an honest and determined Judge.

Says an Amersterdam letter: Considering that there are neither hills nor tunnel in Holland, and the whole country is flat, it is wonderful how elevation of sdea got into the old Dutch churches. They are not much outside, but the interiors have a noble loftiness. They seem built for giants to worship in. Their noble organs stand on an elevation so great that the music appears to descend from the skies upon the heads of the congregations.

It is now estimated that by the end of the year 1869 there will be laid in the United States, in round numbers, one hundred and ten thousand tons of steel rails, equal to eleven hundred miles of steel road; and of this amount about thirty-six thousand tons, equal to three hundred and sixty miles, will be laid during the present season. These rails are in use on more than fifty different roads, and are partly of American, principally of English, and, to a small extent, of Prussian manufacture.

The great success of the Virginia State fair and the interest manifested in it by farmers is regarded as the best sign of returning prosperity of the State. There were quite 25,000 people on the grounds Wednesday. At noon Thursday the blooded stock was paraded. Over two hundred pure blood horses were in line; a greater show than was ever made in Virginia before. Hotspur, a Philadelphia horse, won the six hundred dollars given by the society for fast trotting horses.

According to the Chicago Tribune the business prospects of the Northwest are not very brilliant. All classes of business there depend so largely upon the grain crop that the present low prices make everybody feel poor, and have a depressing effect upon all branches of business. It is probable that the Fall's business will be done for very small profits, and in many instances for no profits at all.

The Cuban insurgents are using a device sometimes employed to advantage by the Confederates during the late war, i. e., "Quaker guns." A number of these wooden guns, which have been left on abandoned works by the Cubans "to fright the souls of fearful adversaries," were recently captured by the Spanish volunteers after a gallant but bloodless charge.

The London Lancet says that the diet of the Harvard Crew did not affect their physical powers during the late race. It is satisfactory to hear this from so respectable an authority, and still more so to find from it that the Oxonians had to put forth their full powers to gain the victory.

PERSONAL.

Father Hyacinthe was first a Sulspician, then a Dominican, next a Carmelite, and now a plain pere. His brother was a Dominican, but left the order to take a professorship at the Sorbonne. His sister, also, was once a Carmelite, but left the order. Altogether they seem to lay aside old "habits" easily.

Mlle. Morensi, the cantatrice from America, has made a favorable debut at the Theater Italien. She has been pronounced to have all the dramatic perquisites, a beautiful person, a dramatic physiognomy, a capability of throwing passion into her parts, a full vibrating voice that has a singular brilliancy of tone.

The Belgians are quite in raptures over Mlle. Cari, a Maine girl. Miss Annie Cary is now singing at the Theater Italien of Brussels. The critics are receiving her with great applause—declaring that she has sung before them Azucena with a talent des plus remarquables. They say she is not a contralto in the full rigor of the term, but if her voice fails in amplitude and strength in the lower notes, in revenge, in the middle and upper notes it possesses a brilliancy and smoothness of tone that makes it a wonderful organ for passionate, sympathetic action; and they say that, added to this gift of nature, Mlle. Cari has precious artistic qualities; an irreproachable diction; a quick feeling for proportion, keeping in just measure and disdaining violence and exaggeration.

The presence of the Egyptian Viceroy's second son at Oxford University would appear to have tickled some of the public advisers amazingly. The orthodox Dons, it is observed, can enjoy the singular scholastic pleasure of "plowing" a son of Pharaoh in his "smalls," or renewing for him the ten plagues of Egypt, with questions upon the Decemviri of Rome, or the Council of Ten or the Ten Tribes of Israel. To most of them he must be a curious and unprofitable personage—in the phrase of Mrs. Malaprop, 'an allegory from the banks of the Nile." How the Prince's father is to meet all the enormous expenses which the opening of the Suez Canal entails nobody knows. He has borrowed huge sums of money at frightful rates, but no sum he obtained in this way will suffice to meet the claims. It may be doubted if the wealthiest State in the old world would have imposed upon itself such an expenditure as the Pacha has incurred. It is the Arabian Nights over again. Perhaps he has some roc which brings him diamonds, or a few genii who are at his side when he rubs his ring.

The Troy Times of Monday evening says that Major-General Wool passed a quiet and painless night, and yesterday morning there was no apparent change in his condition, certainly none for the worse. The distinguished patient is fully conscious of his situation, and realizes the fact that at best he has but a short time to live. When he was first seized with illness he remarked that this would be his last sickness. "Oh, no, General," exclaimed one of his attendants: "you will recover and be with us many years yet." "No," said the General; "this is the last flickering of a lamp that has long been burning."

Count Bismarck has, says a Paris semi-official journal, "lost a great portion of his former influence in German politics." Should this assertion prove true, says the New York Herald, we fear that King William of Prussia is becoming indifferent to the glory of Sadowa, and that the Pope has overslaughed the great North German Premier in the matter of that new Berlin carpet for the Vatican, and that Napoleon knew all about it, which is, perhaps, the worst of all.

Patti Caux, according to a French paper, has signed a splendid engagement to sing in Russia. It is stipulated in the treaty that the diva promises—you would never guess what—to have no children during the period of her engagement. And her husband has written at the bottom of the contract: "The above writing is read and approved."

Eugenie on leaving Venice gave $400 to be distributed among the gondoliers and made this speech to the authorities: "I am enchanted with the charming reception given me by your worthy townspeople. They have shown me marks of sympathy by which I am extremely touched, and I assure you that I shall long preserve the recollection of the agreeable days I have spent in your city."

Somebody having telegraphed to the Louisville Courier-Journal that Mr. Greeley and Mr. Dana met on a street car and had an altercation, Mr. Dana denies the report thus: "This is a pure lie, without the slightest fact to serve as a foundation. Mr. Greeley and Mr. Dana have not happened to meet for weeks; and no unfriendly, unkind or disrespectful word was ever exchanged between them in the whole period of their acquaintance, now nearly thirty years."

NEW PAINT.
To Dealers and Consumers of Paint.
Harris Patent Paint
Fire and Weather Proof,
LETTERS PATENT JULY 3, 1866.

Is an entirely new article, produced under Letters Patent granted to JOS. B. HARRIS, in the United States and Great Britain.
It is as near AN ABSOLUTE NON-CONDUCTOR OF HEAT as can be produced, and as far superior to all other so-called

FIRE-PROOF PAINT,

As Pure White Lead is to Byrates. It spreads fifty per cent. more (while costing 25 per cent. less) than the best White Lead, does not blister or peel, and is entirely free from the poisonous character of Lead and other Paints. The material from which this Paint is produced has never been used in commerce before, and is an additional illustration of the wise economy of nature. All that is asked is

A FAIR TRIAL,

And to that end we offer it to the public, CHALLENGING COMPETITION AS TO ECONOMY, DURABILITY, PROTECTION FROM FIRE, as well as ease and comfort to the Painter working and using this Paint. Liberal Discount to the Trade.

CITY MATTERS.

YOUNG MEN'S CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION.—The Third Anniversary of the Young Men's Christian Association will be held on Tuesday evening next, the 9th inst., in the Third Presbyterian Church of this city, (Rev. T. A. Noble's,) Sixth avenue. Addresses may be expected from Rev. Dr. John Hall, of New York, Geo. H. Stuart, Esq., and Chaplain McCabe. The President's report for the past year will be read. The meeting promises to be one of exceeding interest.

Monongahela Valley Sabbath School Convention and Institute.

The Convention met according to order, at half-past eight o'clock on Wednesday morning, in the M. E. Church, Elizabeth, and after spending a half hour in devotional exercises, proceeded with business.

Rev. Mr. Hair, of McKeesport, delivered a lecture on the subject, "Should the Sabbath School Teacher be especially trained to his work."

The following questions were placed upon the table, to be discussed at the pleasure of the Convention:

First, Teaching defined.

Second, How to interest and save our young people in the church.

Third, The cultivation of home and family religion.

Fourth, Can Sabbath School papers be successfully substituted for books?

Fifth, Can the present manuals in use, such as "Two Years with Jesus," be made a success?

Sixth, Model Lesson, Math. 25 chapt., 1 to 13 verses.

Seventh, Will any ordinary circumstances justify the closing of any Sabbath School during the winter months?

Eighth, Should non professors be employed as teachers in the Sabbath School?

Remarks were made by Revs. Cramer, Conkle, Butts, Webster, and Dr. Ames.

Monongahela City was fixed upon as the next place of meeting.

The Benediction was pronounced and the convention adjourned to meet again at two o'clock P. M.

In the afternoon a mass meeting of Sabbath School children was held in the church, Rev. T. McCleary presiding. After the singing of an anthem by the teachers, Rev. Mr. Pollock led in prayer.

The first address was delivered by Rev. W. Butts, of Monongahela City, who selected as the foundation of his remarks the beautiful words of Jesus, "Suffer the little children to come unto me." The children gave the closest attention for about thirty minutes, during which the learned gentleman talked most impressively.

The children then joined in singing the song "Forbid them not," after which Rev. T. C. McClure delivered an address on the fashionable follies of the day and warning the children to avoid the dangers thrown in the paths of the young, and inviting them to devote themselves to God in their youthful days.

After some singing by the teachers Rev. Mr. Harr, of McKeesport, described in beautiful thoughts the sad condition of those living in this world who are without Christ.

Hon. T. R. Hazzard, of Monongahela City, then delivered a glowing account of his travels across the continent, which was listened to with interest by all present. The meeting was well attended, the church being filled to its utmost capacity.

In the evening the convention listened to an address from Rev. J. H. Couple, of Elizabeth, on "the relation of the sacred geography to the study of the scriptures." after which remarks touching that subject were made by Rev. G. A. Ames, D.D., and Hon. T. R. Hazzard.

The next question brought before the Convention was "The Duty of the Church to the Sabbath School."

Rev. D. H. Pollock opened the debate by saying the design of the Sabbath School is to impart to the young Divine truth, hence it is the work of the church to supply the demand of the school, with men and women devoted to the work of their Master, and to see that the word of God be taught in its purity.

Rev. G. A. Ames, DD., Rev. Mr. Miller, DD., of McKeesport, and Hon. T. R. Hazzard, followed in quite lengthy addresses, after which Rev. Mr. Butts gave the Institute a model blackboard lesson, and the Convention adjourned.

Body Identified.

In yesterday's paper appeared an item stating that an unknown man had been run over and killed on the Pennsylvania Railroad, near Beatty's Station, on Tuesday night. The item was taken from the Greensburg Argus, and contained a description of the deceased. We have since learned the following facts concerning the accident and identity of the body: The name of the deceased was Edward McGrath, a stone mason by occupation, and for twenty-four years past had been in the employ of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company in that capacity. Lately he had been engaged on the tunnel near Beatty's Station, and on Tuesday evening, as we are informed, he got aboard a train to go a short distance. He usually traveled on a pass, but it seems had none on this occasion, and only five cents about him. The fare to where he was going was ten cents, but having only five the conductor stopped the train and put him off. It is supposed that he started to walk along the track when he was run over and killed as stated. On the following day the body was buried at Beatty's station, and the relatives of the deceased were not informed of the accident until Wednesday. They could get no satisfaction from the officers of the railroad company, and it was not until the fellow workmen of the deceased removed the remains from the grave that identity was established. The body was brought to the city yesterday in charge of two of the railroad employees, and reinterred by the relatives of deceased. A son of the deceased, James McGrath, is proprietor of a book and news depot on Duquesne Way.

Misdemeanor In Office.

Alderman Edward Lynch appears to have got himself into a peck of trouble of late, if we are to judge from the informations made against him. Only a day or two ago, we reported a case wherein the Alderman figured as defendant, and Mr. McGongie, Poor Director, as prosecutor. The charge on that occasion was that the Alderman has failed to turn over the sum of twenty-five dollars, belonging to the county, collected from a tavern keeper for illegal liquor selling. Another information was made against the Alderman yesterday before 'Squire Taylor, and for the same misdemeanor. It seems from the information that on the 15th of June last the Alderman arrested one F. A. Ebele, a barber doing business in the city, for exercising his business on the Lord's Day. The magistrate subsequently gave judgment for the penalty prescribed—$25—and issued his execution to Chas. H. Simmons, deputy constable, who, on the day aforesaid, proceeded to collect the penalty. Now the information further sets forth that the Alderman has failed to pay said $25 to the Bounty Treasurer, although a demand has been made for it. An information against the officer mentioned, and preferred by the same prosecutor, avers that he collected the money on the execution aforementioned, but failed to account to the Treasurer for it. Warrants were issued and Simmons was arrested and held to bail for a hearing. The Alderman will also give bail.

Alleged Robbing.

Yesterday morning at one o'clock a half intoxicated individual, giving his name as John Baker, called at the Forty-third street police station house, Seventeenth ward, and reported to the officers in charge that he had been robbed of a pocket book containing $42 the evening previous by two men named Benjamin Griffith and William Lewis. He remained in the stationhouse till day light when he went before Deputy Mayor Nichols and deposed to an information charging the individuals named with the robbing. He stated he and the defendants had been drinking in a saloon on the Greensburg pike the night before, he paying for all the liquor drank. During the evening he loaned a man in the saloon a half dollar, and replaced the pocket book with $42 in it in his pocket. In a few minutes afterwards he ascertained that it was gone and as his companions were gone too, suspicion fell upon them. Officer Canant was was armed with the warrants and the accused were soon in custody, being arrested in a hay loft on the pike. They had a hearing before the Deputy Mayor, but as there was no money found on their persons and no direct evidence against them they were discharged. The accused stated that they belonged to Portsmouth, Ohio, and they had left there without money and had not received any since. They started in the direction of East Liberty, after being released.

Demolition of an Ancient Landmark.

The Sample mansion, which has occupied a prominent position on Water street, Allegheny, for the past half century, was sacrificed to the spirit of improvement during the present week. The building, which was a frame structure, was erected by Mr. Thomas Sample, formerly a prominent citizen and ex-Mayor of Allegheny, and occupied by him as a residence until his removal, some years ago, to Mahoning, Ohio, where he is spending the evening of his days. The house was for many years classed among the principal private edifices of the city, and many of our oldest residents will be sorry to learn of its demolition. It was constructed in a substantial manner, and its foundation showed such slight evidences of decay that its present owners, Messrs. Anderson, Maxwell and Porter, proprietors of the Diamond Foundry and Machine Works, concluded to use it for the new extension of their foundry, which is in course of construction, and which was rendered necessary by their rapidly increasing business.

The Lower St. Clair Township Stabbing Affray.

Yesterday afternoon at three o'clock a final hearing took place before His Honor Mayor Brush, in the case of the parties charged with the stabbing of George Faller, in Leonard's saloon, Lower St. Clair township, on Saturday evening, the 23d ult. Two hearings have already taken place, each time the defendants being recommitted until the result of Faller's injuries could be ascertained. Yesterday the attending physicians, Drs. Kerr and Moye, stated their opinion that the injured man would recover, his present favorable condition warranting that belief. No other evidence was offered as the facts connected with the melee were developed at the previous hearings, and the accused were released on giving bail each in the sum of $1,000 for their appearance at the December term of Court, there to answer all charges pending against them.

COWARDLY ASSAULT.—In Monongahela borough, a night or two ago, as Lauriston Burmann avers, he was assiled by William Wetzel and John Kress and severely injured. Kress shoved Burmann about in a very violent manner, while Wetzel struck him a severe blow on the head with a clinker. Information was made before Justice Barker of South Pittsburgh yesterday, and officer Stemler arrested the accused. Kress was fined five dollars and costs, and Wetzel ten dollars and costs. The latter also agreed to pay Burmann for his lost time, his doctor bill and all damages sustained by the occurrence, which met the sanction of Burmann and hence the above disposition of the case.

COURT PROCEEDINGS.

Supreme Court—Full Bench.

Court met at 10 A. M. and the following cases were argued:

Pittsburgh & Connellsville R. R. Co. vs. Allegheny county, and Allegheny county vs. Pittsburgh & Connellsville R. R. Co.

Jones et al. vs. Dilworth. Argued by Furgeson & Kuhn, for plaintiffs in error, and by A. M. Brown contra.

Anderson Oil Company vs. Gibson. Argued by Burgwin for plaintiff in error, and by Bell contra.

Bigley vs. Risher et al. Argued by Acheson for plaintiff in error, and by Woods contra.

Long vs. the First German Evangelical St. Paul's congregation of Birmingham. Argued by Burgwin for plaintiff in error, and Miller contra.

United States Court—Judge McCandless.

In this court yesterday Phillip J. Higgins was tried on an indictment charging him with with distilling without payment of special tax, without giving bond and with intent to defraud the United States. The jury rendered a verdict of guilty. The prisoner was remanded for sentence.

In the case of the United States vs. Frederick Miller, charged with violating the revenue law in the matter of the manufacture of cigars, the defendant plead guilty. On motion of the District Attorney, sentence was suspended.

Court adjourned until ten o'clock this morning.

Court of Quarter Sessions—Judge Mellon.

A verdict of guilty was rendered in the case of the Commonwealth vs. Bridget and Patrick Henry, previously reportep.

Eliza Nesbit was acquitted on a charge of selling liquor without a license, and the prosecuto, Mathew Keep, directed to pay the costs.

Verdicts of not guilty were rendered in the following cases, the prosecutors failing to appear: Nicholas Domby, larceny; Wm. McGrew, larceny; George Kirkpatrik, felonious assault and battery; Henry J. and Mary McGonley, felonious assault; Michael Sullivan, larceny, Robert Henderson, larceny; Thomas Smith, felonious assault and battery.

Dr. F. Beese was placed on trial on an indictment charging him with attempting to produce an abortion, Miss McGinley, prosecuting witness. Very strong testimony was produced for the defense. On trial.

District Court—Judge Hampton.

In the case of Roberts vs. Duff, previously reported, the jury found a verdict in favor of the plaintiff for 403 57.

The next case taken up was that of Bonfacius Hildebrand vs. Henry Blumenhauer; action for damages received by the excavating of the cellar of defendant. On trial.

Police Intelligence.

[Before Alderman Humbert.]

A DISORDERLY TEAMSTER.

John C. Moore, conductor of car No. 5 of the Central Passenger Railway, yesterday made information before Alderman Humbert, charging the driver of a wagon bearing license plate No. 296 with disorderly conduct. It seems that Moore's car was proceeding down Fourth avenue when the teamster referred to seized the horses by the head and stopped the car. The conductor remonstrated with him, when he heaped such a tirade of abuse on him as to cause much discomfiture among the lady passengers. A warrant for the accused's arrest was issued.

[Before Justice Heisel, of East Birmingham.]

ALLEGED DISORDERLY HOUSE.

Bernard McQuillan charged Albert Kerr and his wife with keeping and maintaining a disorderly house in South Pittsburgh. The defendants live in one of deponent's houses, and learning that they keep an ill-governed house, he desires to have the nuisance abated. Warrant issued.

DISORDERLY FEMALES.

Peter Felker lodged complaint against Margaret Lietert and Eva Sperhue for disorderly conduct, alleging that the accused came to the house of deponent and acted in an outrageous manner by calling him names, &c. Warrant issued.

[Before Justice Ammon, of East Birmingham.]

ABUSED HIS WIFE.

A complaint was yesterday preferred before Justice Ammon, of East Birmingham, charging Thomas McCloy with assault and battery upon the person of his wife, Eliza McCloy. About a year ago Thomas acted in a similar manner, but on being arrested took an oath not to drink any more, and the matter was settled. The year is up and Thomas, it seems, has returned to his old "pranks," hence the present suit. A warrant was issued.

[Before Alderman Koenig.]

ASSAULT AND BATTERY.

Charles Eckerle lodged complaint against Martin Haller for assault and battery, alleging that the accused struck him a blow on the head without just cause or provocation. A warrant was issued.

Public Amusements.

OPERA HOUSE.—There was a large and delighted audience here last evening to witness the inimitable burlesque of Leffingwell, who excels any individual actor in that line we have ever had amongst us. His admirable assistance in Mrs. Leffingwell, Miss Millie Sackett, an old favorite, and others, adds greatly to the charm of his attractive performances. The only Leffingwell, with all his attractive people, will appear at the matinee this afternoon, and also in the evening, and we direct attention to their card.

THEATER.—The always acceptable performances at this house are much enhanced this week by Miss Rita Percy's delineations of classical statuary, which are remarkably pleasing, from their classic and artistic excellence. Miss Percy has a splendid pysique, and in her representations of statuary cannot fail to elicit the warmest applause.

VARIETIES.—At the Varieties Theater, Penn avenue, the attractions were never so great as now. Besides splendid performances, they have beautiful women, who, in their respective performances, acknowledge no peers. The Varieties performance is always of the most pleasing character, and that of to-night cannot fail to please.

MUSEUM.—Had Major Burnell the whole "western continent" upon which to practice for a house, he would give such an exhibition as would command universal attention. As it is, he is confined in his views, and he only asks more room to give such an exhibition as his ambition dictates. For a genuine exhibition of artistic and moral views, we commend the Museum.

Queensware—Where to Get It.

Messrs. S. M. Kier & Co., proprietors of the Keystone Pottery, have demonstrated that all kinds of queensware and bristolware, both the finest as well as the common, can be manufactured in this country as well as in Europe. Their extensive warehouse, No. 363 Liberty street, is filled with articles of their own manufacture, which in quality and finish is equal to any imported wares, to which they would call the attention of dealers generally before purchasing elsewhere.

An Article of True Merit.

"BROWN'S BRONCHIAL TROCHES" are the most popular article in this country or Europe for Throat Diseases and Coughs, and this popularity is based upon real merit, which cannot be said of many other preparations in the market, which are really but weak imitations of the genuine Troches.

The Popular Verdict

Is in favor of the American Buttonhole and Overseaming Sewing Machine. James Espy, agent, No. 12 Fifth avenue.

"Get Marvin's."

Such was the last charge impressed upon Brown by Mrs. Brown, as he hastened toward the railroad station. "What does Marvin do?" we asked. "Marvin? Oh! why he makes the best water crackers, the best oyster crackers, the best of everything in the cake and cracker line that you can get in this country. If you are going to husekeeping here, you must make it a point to ask your grocer for Marvin's superior water crackers." S

The Shivering Season.

It is impossible to suppose that any human being can consider an attack of fever and ague a light visitation. And yet thousands act as if such a calamity was of no consequence; while thousands who are actually suffering from the distressing complaint neglect to adopt the certain means of cure. It ought to be known in every locality subject to this scourge, or which is infested with remittent fever, or any other epidemic produced by malaria, that HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS taken in advance or at the commencement of the unhealthy season, will fortify the system against the atmospheric poison which generates these distempers. This admirable invigorant—harmless, agreeable, and possessing rarer medicinal virtues than any other tonic at present known, will break up the paroxysms of intermittent or remittent fever in from forty-eight hours to ten days. Such is the universal testimony from districts where periodical fevers have been combatted with this powerful vegetable Chologogue. In a thievish neighborhood wise men bar their doors and windows, yet strange to say if the same neighborhood happens to be pervaded by aerial poison they seldom take the trouble to put their bodies in a state of defense against the subtle enemy. Shivering victims endeavoring in vain to warm your blue hands over the fire, or consuming with the fever that follows the chill, remember that HOSTETTER'S BITTERS is an absolute, speedy and infallable specific for your distressing malady.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

FRIDAY EVENING, November 5, 1869.

Money appeared to be in better supply today at many of the discount houses, and borrowers in good standing were more liberally accommodated. Nevertheless a good deal of stringency exists. The banks, as a general thing, have been contracting their lines of discount so as to be in readiness to meet the wants of the pork packers, and other heavy interests which usually make large demands upon them about this season, which continues for five or six weeks hence. Although there has been some improvement in the deposit line, yet the banks are unwilling to let out money except upon call or short date paper.

—As to the New York money market the Herald of yesterday remarks that it will be gratifying to every commercial and financial interest to learn that the movement of the Western crops, which has been so long delayed by the speculative interference of the wheat gamblers, has at length begun, and that the prospect of a full resumption of the business in the great staples of flour and grain is no illusive one. Some intimation of the fact was given yesterday in the better demand for money, although at the time it was supposed that the demands of the City Treasury for funds, to meet the payment of certain bonds falling due on November 1st, was the real secret of the activity. A little reflection ought to have shown, however, that the requirements of only a few millions could not have been the full and sufficient cause thereof. The slight activity thus produced was aggravated by the demand for funds for remittance westward. The suspension in the shipments of the crops was originally based upon the lower price of gold, the holders looking for a more favorable market to sell upon, and being disappointed by the sharp doward turn which gold has taken within the past week. In letting the wheat go at last they have repeated the example so often set for them in all commodities which are the subject of speculation. When gold was up and wheat was high, as compared with present price they would not sell. Like the great majority of speculators they sell only when the market has had a great decline. Whatever the cause or reason, it is the source of great satisfaction that the crops are in motion. The business of the country consists of a general system of circulation of commodities. A deadlock in any branch tends to clog the whole stream. The general trade of the country has been suffering from the stagnation in the grain market. The movement of the crops means general activity all around, the better collection of Western debts, a new stimulus to Eastern enterprise, and a bolder and more confident feeling on the part of the capitalists and money lenders, whose bonds are the foundation of commerce.

—There was a fractional improvement in the price of Government bonds to-day, in the face of a very weak gold market.

Messrs. Ira B. McVay & Co., report the following quotations of Government bonds in New York to-day, as furnished them by Jay Cooke & Co., their correspondents:

—It is remarked by the Philadelphia Press that the decline in gold has awakened much discussion as to the course which values generally will take in the event of its continuance. It is conceded on all sides that if gold were left to its own natural course, it would fall gradually to par, and it is only the fear of manipulating speculators which gives it its present fictitious value. Take the gold market out of the hands of the cliques of Wall street, and a great stride is made towards the resumption of specie payments. The question mainly to be now considered is, whether or not these cliques will hereafter regain their control of the market to such an extent as to force up the premium in the face of the circumstances which are now pressing it down. Appearances are against such a presumption, and the bursting of the late gold bubble has no doubt wounded very badly the leading and strongest of the "bulls," and as it before took them a long time to secure that wealth by means of which they were enabled to buy and keep many millions of gold, so now the loss of that wealth compels them to limit their operations. Whether or not it is policy for the Government to assist the decline is a question. Certain it is that the disturbance to values will be very material, but if the shrinkage were gradual the mercantile community could come safely through the process. It is not likely that large holders of manufactured goods, and others interested in sustaining values, may organize a new clique for the purpose of checking the decline, and, therefore, it is not probable that much disaster will occur. Our importers have the ability to protect themselves at any time, in this way, should the Government gold be too freely used.

—The New York stock market has shown considerable activity and bouyancy during the present, especially on the Western shares. The Tribune says: The Northwestern shares were largely dealt in upon a report that the directors would make a 5 ℔ cent. dividend, less tax on the Preferred stock, and 3½ ℔ cent. free of tax on the Common. This report was premature, as the subject of the dividend was not considered at the meeting of the directors to-day, but will come up at the regular meeting early in December. The traffic of the road exhibits an improvement as compared with October, and will be sufficient to warrant a dividend out of the half year's earnings. The market is without any special activity, there being no indications of any clique movements to advance prices, and the general feeling of the street is averse to any combined movements in stocks until after the meeting of Congress. With the exception of the Vanderbilt stocks, there is no supporting power in the market, and prices of stocks now represent ther values more closely than at any time in the past two years.

The following table, made up from dispatches received at J. W. Kennedy's Stock Rooms, Apollo Building, No. 80 Fourth avenue, shows the prices of Railway Stocks, Gold, etc., at the various sessions of the New York Boards during the day:

WEEKLY REVIEW OF THE PIG IRON AND BLOOM MARKET.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH COMMERCIAL, SATURDAY, November 6, 1869.

There continues an active demand for leading standard forge irons. The current receipts of bituminous coal-smelted descriptions, from Lake Superior ore, are comparatively light, and altogether inadequate to the demand. Many of the furnaces are contracted considerably in advance of production.

The receipts of anthracite descriptions are more liberal, with a fairly active demand at the decline noted in our last report.

In foundry irons, a moderate business is doing. Good grades of Hanging Rock descriptions are scarce and wanted.

Common coke, and low grades charcoal sorts, are in fair supply, and in moderate request at unchanged rates.

We are quoted the following sales:

PITTSBURGH OIL MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH COMMERCIAL, SATURDAY MORNING, November 6, 1869.

The oil market yesterday was considerably excited, and prices were a shade higher, with more buyers than sellers at current quotations. For a good gravity of crude oil, spot, may be quoted at 17@17¼c. For refined November was firm at 36¾c, and December at 35c. The inquiry seems to be more particularly for November delivery, and not so much inquiry for futures. We quote crude oil of 40 to 46 gravity, spot, at 17c; S. O. November or December, 16¾c, and B. O., all year, nominally at 17c. We note sales reported as follows:

CRUDE OIL.

1,000 bbls (40 to 46), spot	17c
1,000 bbls (40 to 45), S. O., 10 days	17¼c
1,000 bbls S. O., 90 days	16c

REFINED OIL.

MONONGAHELA—Two feet six.
GLASSHOUSE RIPPLE—Three feet

THE pier marks last evening indicated two feet six inches, and at a stand still. The weather was mild, with very little indications of rain. Freights are plenty, but light draught tonnage scarce. The Mollie Ebert came in with a good trip. The Camelia and Belle will take their departure this day.

COTTON ARRIVAL AT MOBILE.—The Prairie State arrived at Mobile from Warrior river with 600 bales of cotton, the largest cargo this season.

THE punctual packet Petrolia, Capt. Nipp, takes her departure this day at 4 P. M. for Brownsville and Geneva. This boat has the best of accommodations, and is in charge of careful and attentive officers. Mr. Wm. McElroy has charge of the office.

THE fine packet New State, Capt. Harlan, takes her departure this day at 12 M. for Wheeling and way points. This boat is in fine order and is in charge of careful and gentlemanly officers. Mr. Caldwell has charge of the office.

OFFICIAL SURVEY OF THE OHIO RIVER FROM PITTSBURGH TO CAIRO.—The second edition of this valuable chart has just been issued at this office. It contains valuable information that cannot be obtained elsewhere. Price ten cents. Call early and procure a copy.

THE fleet packet Belle, Capt. Sholes, takes her departure this day at 12 M for Wheeling, Marietta and Parkersburg. The Belle is a No. 1 boat in every respect, and is daily growing in favor with passengers and shippers. We take pleasure in saying a good word for her.

THE United States Mail Line on the slack water are doing a large business. Their packets arrive and depart on time with excellent trips. The accomplished Moorhouse will be found at the warf during business hours. If you want any information give him a call.

THE officers of the steamer Camelia, which arrived here on Thursday, report a great improvement in the Ohio river at Buffington Island and Beaver shoals. These are the points which we took occasion to speak of a few days ago as being dredged by the Monongahela Dredging Company's steam dredge boat.

THE fine light draught packet Camelia, Capt. R. C. Mason takes her departure this day at 4 P. M. for Cincinnati, Cairo and St. Louis. This boat makes her trip regularly and is a large favorite with passengers, who speak in flattering terms of her appointments. The first clerk is Mr. Wm. Braithwaite who will see that passengers are well cared for.

ST. LOUIS—THE LACON SOLD.—Captain David Campbell, yesterday, bought the old Illinois River steamer Lacon, for $2,000, from Stillwell, Powell & Co., and will tear her up. The Lady Pike has taken a heavy tow up the river, including 1,000 bbls apples, shipped from Hannibal for Dubuque. Her agents at Dubuque have secured a load of sacked grain, flour, &c.; also 4,000 sacks and 2,000 pigs of lead at Galena.

THE Louisville Courier-Journal says: The Bradford low water indicator, a recent invention now in use on the boats of the United States Mail Line, is now on exhibition at the establishment of John Pierce, the well-known boiler maker, where it can be seen at all times. It is said to be the most economical and reliable safeguard against low water in steam boilers now in use.

EVANSVILLE—A dispatch says Col. Macomb has sent the J. J. Abert and Octavia into the Ohio river to remove obstructions, and, if possible, deepen the channel. The Abert has reached Walker's bar, clearing the river as she came, removing one of the largest snags she ever tackled. The Octavia has removed the boilers of the ill-fated Cumberland, and has gone back to Walker's in the hope of being able to dredge a channel sufficient to let the Dexter over. Her operations have been greatly retarded by boats crowding into the channel, undoing what she had done.

ARRIVAL OF A MACKINAW AT SIOUX CITY—INTERESTING INCIDENTS OF THE SOJOURN AND RETURN.—On last Monday evening, there arrived in this city a crew of men who have perhaps had more experience in Upper Missouri River life than any other individuals who have ever visited our city. They are headed by Captain J. P. Clark, the old and reliable commander of the Deer Lodge, the largest boat engaged in the up-river traffic. The following is a very brief synopsis of their adventures since they left this port on the 22d of last July, on which day Clark took command of the steamer North Alabama for that particular trip. The stage of water having been unusually poor for the last season, the captain was unable to get his cargo through to Fort Benton, and so unloaded at a point about 1,260 miles up the river, sending the boat back by a part of the crew, retaining the balance with him. The freight of the Fanny Baker had also been deposited at the same point, and around the entire stores he built a stockade for protection against Indians, naming it Fort Lawrence, in honor of Capt. Joab Lawrence, President and Superintendent of the Northwest Transportation Co.

On the up-trip, when within about twelve miles of the site of their fort, they were attacked by some hostile Indians. A skirmish ensued, in which, owing to the superior prowess of the men under Captain Clark, the redskins were routed, leaving a number of dead on the field, who were left a prey to the coyotes and prairie wolves, and a warning to other bands that when a boat is attacked they should first learn the calibre of the man in charge of her.

Some time after their arrival at the point at which they erected their fort, they were the recipients of numerous visits from Red Stone, chief of the Asiniboines, but which resulted in no bloodshed. Mr. R. S. being satisfied with a casual inspection of the defensive arrangements, without restoring to a practical demonstration of their efficiency. Their sojourn at Fort Lawrence was not so gay and festive as it might have been, had they been favored with communication with the outer world. As it was, they managed to keep off the "blue devils" by occasionally paying their respects to the "red devils" who infested the country; and as necessity is the mother of invention, many were the means devised for affording themselves amusement.

Athletics of various kinds were practiced, and should ever an emergency arise requiring it, the Captain and his comrades could start a first-class circus exhibition.

On the 2d of the present month, the last of their stores, amounting to about 100 wagon loads, had been started for Benton City, Montana, by bull teams, when their guard started for Sioux City in a mackinaw. A short time before they broke camp they received notice that they were to be attacked by a band of Sioux; but up to the time of their departure the Indians had not made their appearance. On their way down, however, they were attacked at Strawberry Island, but, as in all other rencontres with them, the Indians had to give way before our heroes. They met with no further molestation at the hands of these children of the Great Father at Washington.

At Fort Berthold, on the 9th inst., the Mackinaw met the steamer Peninah, and this was the first chance they had had for about two months and a half, of learning anything from civilization. They met their old boat, the North Alabama, on her last trip, at Blue Blanket Island, below Grand River; and the Fanny Baker, over whose previous cargo they had been keeping watch and ward for so long a time, below American Island. Upon arriving at Dora's Island, on last Sunday, they found a heavy fall of snow. They met the Hiram Wood at Vermillion soon after, and abandoned their Mackinaw five miles below, coming to this place overland, arriving at about 11 o'clock on Monday night, all hearty and sound, and feeling not much the worse for the wear.—Sioux City Times.
